Chicago In Grip Of Economic Chaos; 50,000 Go Payless

STATE FAILS TO GIVE AID OR CREDIT

Mayor Cermak Calls Meeting of City and State Officials This Morning

BANKS ALSO SILENT

City and County Floating Debt Over Quarter of Billion Dollars Today

CHICAGO, June 5.—(UP)—Payless paydays came again today for Chicago school teachers as the time for them to collect their salaries found the city $165,000,000 in debt and with only $150,000 in cash in its treasury.

As the debts piled up at the rate of thousands of dollars a day in interest, and city employees, including the teachers, faced the probability of going indefinitely without pay, Anton J. Cermak and other officials were calling upon the state to give immediate aid and prevent "certain economic chaos."

Cermak was rebuffed Wednesday when he asked the legislature in Springfield to consider immediately a bill which he said would re-establish the city's credit and make it possible to borrow money. This bill would have provided for making tax boards appointive instead of elective. After the rebuff Cermak called an emergency conference of state, city and county officials for today and it was said the meeting would be held and relief measures discussed although Gov. Louis L. Emmerson sent word he could not attend.

Emmerson was known to agree with Cermak that state legislation was needed immediately to straighten out the tangled financial situation and avoid the necessity of cutting some 50,000 city and county employees off the pay rolls.

The city's failure today to pay teachers' salaries, accumulation of interest on bonds, and failure to meet other bills was said to bring the combined city and county floating debts to $243,914,000.

The total debts were said to be approximately 50 per cent greater than one year ago, when the situation was considered so serious that business interest and wealthy individuals "chipped in" and raised $75,000,000 to keep the city running.

On previous occasions when failure to collect taxes led to similar situations, the problem usually was solved by selling tax anticipation warrants to banks. This year, the banks refuse to buy the warrants, contending the city's credit is no good.

Representatives came yesterday from the Lehman brothers and R. W. Pressprich and company investment houses in New York and conferred with officials regarding the possibility of their concerns buying warrants and tiding the city over. Officials held little hope, however, that the New York firms would do this. A similar attempt failed last year, they recalled, and they considered the situation worse now than it was then.

Gets Justice With Dime From Judge

LOS ANGELES, June 5.—(UP)—Demanding justice, S. Hanaya, Japanese, owner of a lunch stand, hailed Elbert Meyburg into court on a charge of defrauding a cafe owner, alleging he had failed to pay for a hamburger sandwich. Meyburg insisted he had laid a dime on the counter.

After listening to the testimony, Municipal Judge William Northrup reached into a pocket, handed Hanaya a dime, and asked if he was satisfied.

The Japanese bowed low and said, "Yes, Mr. Judge, this is justice."

SAN FRANCISCO CIVIC LEADER ANSWERS CALL

Robert Lynch Suddenly Dies at Home After Returning from Banquet

SAN FRANCISCO, June 5.—(UP)—Robert Newton Lynch, San Francisco civic leader, who died suddenly at his home last night from a sudden heart attack, was mourned today by hundreds who associated with him in public work and progress.

Lynch, 55, died soon after returning from a banquet in a downtown hotel for William Gibbs McAdoo, at which he spoke. He was one of California's best known students of public affairs and an expert on community promotion.

Born in Sharpsville, Pa., in 1875, Lynch came to San Francisco in 1881 and later worked for a time in the law offices of Grove Johnson, father of United States Senator Hiram Johnson. In 1896 he went to England and attended the University of London.

He returned to California and entered church and civic work, finally becoming general manager of the San Francisco Chamber of Commerce in 1912. Last year he was made head of new international trade and relations department, a post he held when he died.

Lynch traveled widely and was a student of international affairs. For his work in immigration affairs he was knighted by the king of Italy.

In addition to his widow, Lynch is survived by two daughters, Mrs. Martin Row of Dallas, Tex., and Miss Maria Ann Lynch, and a son, Robert Jr., 9.

NEVADA GAMBLER FREED OF MURDER

RENO, Nev., June 5.—(UP)—William "Bill" Graham, quick trigger member of Nevada's "big four" gaming combine and an associate of Jack Dempsey, stood exonerated by a coroner's jury today in the gun duel death of P. R. McCracken, a western gambler of the old school.

"Self defense" was the verdict in the west's newest bit of gunplay—an affair as melodramatic as an escape of Wild Bill Hickock, Kit Carson or even Billy the Kid.

It was the third and last of the gunfights that marked McCracken's life as a gambler in mining camps and desert towns. He "went out" with an oath on his lips, his weakening fingers working futilely on a "frozen" cartridge chamber.

SHIPPING MAGNATE RETURNS TO WORK

SAN FRANCISCO, June 5.—(UP)—Capt. Robert Dollar, 87-year-old dean of American shipping magnates, was back at his desk in a downtown office building today after recovering from a recent serious illness.

Captain Dollar made a single concession in the interests of his health, traveling from his San Rafael home to San Francisco by automobile. For years he had made the trip by train and ferry.

The shipping master recently suffered a relapse of an old digestive ailment which for a time was feared would prove fatal.

FASCISTS AND VATICAN CALL TRUCE IN ROME

Pope Awaits Reply to Two Notes He Dispatched to Government

ROME, June 5.—(UP)—A truce in the controversy between the holy see and the Fascist state was in effect today, after demands from Pope Pius XI that the government formally "deplore" anti church incidents in Rome and elsewhere.

The Vatican awaited replies to its two notes to the Italian government, asking for an explanation of the "slow action" in suppression of demonstrations against the pope. Conversations between diplomatic representatives of the church and the state continued calmly, with both sides seeking to prevent rising rancor from breaking out into a renewal of violence which marked the opening of the present critical situation.

The United Press learned the incident most irritating to the pope was an attempt by Fascist youths to invade Vatican City—of which he is recognized sovereign—near the printing plant of the Observatore Romano, Vatican organ.

When informed of the incident, Pope Pius said:

"If they drive us from our home, we will pray in the church. If they drive us from the churches, we will pray in the catacombs as our predecessors did 2000 years ago."

The government's silence in response to messages from the holy see handed to Dino Grandi, foreign minister, spurred the pope on to a firmer stand in the struggle between the Vatican and the Fascist regime headed by Premier Benito Mussolini.

NAUTILUS LEAVES FOR SPITZBERGEN

PROVINCETOWN, Mass., June 5.—(UP)—The submarine Nautilus was on the Atlantic today on the first phase of a voyage which will carry Sir Hubert Wilkins and a crew of 18 to Spitzbergen and eventually into the icy wastes of the Arctic circle.

The transformed navy craft was being accompanied as far as the Grand Banks by the coast guard cutter Ponchartraine. The submarine was in command of Lieut. Sloan Danahower, U. S. S., retired and Sir Hubert.

Chief Clerk For Burlington Line Commits Suicide

ST. LOUIS, Mo., June 5.—(UP)—Thomas K. Knight, 63, chief clerk here of the Chicago, Burlington & Quincy railroad, leaped to his death today from the 16th floor of the Federal Commerce Trust building. He had been employed by the railroad 35 years.

A letter found in Knight's coat pocket, gave directions for funeral arrangements, and asked that his brother, George Knight, St. Joseph, Mo., be informed.

C. R. Miller, a friend, said Knight "had no worries that I know of."

4 Bandits Escape With $6200 From Bank In Illinois

DELAVER, Ill., June 5.—(UP)—Four gentlemanly bandits kidnaped Mrs. Willie Crabb, wife of the Tazewell County National bank's president, today, held her hostage for two hours and escaped with $6,200 from the bank.

Mrs. Crabb was released from the bandit's automobile at East Peoria, Ill., nearly 50 miles away. Her husband had not spread an alarm of the robbery because the bandits had threatened to kill Mrs. Crabb if he did so.

Toner Hears Protests On State Acts

Citizens Deplore Removal of State Institution Heads By Governor

CITIZENS OF Southern California, protesting over the discharge of certain heads of state institutions, yesterday met in Los Angeles with Dr. J. M. Toner, director of state institutions and thrashed out problems in a conference that lasted over six hours.

Efficient administration of state institutions and appointment of heads who are fitted by character and experience were demanded. Another demand was that dismissals should be made only after submitting written charges to the superintendent with the privilege of being heard.

Following the meeting the following statement by Dr. Toner was made public:

"I have conferred with the following group, Mrs. Carrie Parsons Bryant, Judge Thomas C. Gould, Dr. George Hunter and DeGroot, Dr. R. A. Cushman, Donald Frey, Myron Hunt, O. W. Stratton, Elmer R. Murphy and J. Frank Burke relative to their request for a conference on the management of the institutions of California. It has been suggested in case of hospitals for the insane that a committee of six be appointed by the director of institutions with the approval of the governor to act as an advisory party to the director for the purpose of setting up standards for the administrative personnel of this class of institutions. This committee will be named by the director from a list of persons submitted by service clubs and allied organizations throughout California in addition to the group to be named that has already been appointed at my request by the president of the California Medical association six psychiatrists, three of whom are from the north and three from the south, this group representing the medical profession will act as an advisory committee in matters pertaining to the state hospitals relative to the other non-medical institutions coming under my department."

"I am of the opinion that the administration would be along the lines of final rehabilitations and readjustments of the individual boy or girl to their proper place."

BASEBALL RESULTS

YANKEE STADIUM, NEW YORK, June 5.—(UP)—Babe Ruth hit his tenth home run of the season in the ninth inning of the Yankees game with the St. Louis Browns this afternoon.

Ruth's blow came with Reese on base and enabled the Yanks to defeat the Browns, 8 to 7.

STATE WITNESS COLLAPSES IN PANTAGES CASE

Lydia Nitto Falls During Telling of Details Before Jury

SAN DIEGO, June 5.—(UP)—Lydia Nitto, chief witness against Alexander Pantages, on trial for violation of the juvenile court laws collapsed while on the stand and fell to the floor. She was picked up by Deputy District Attorney Frank Dunn.

Olive Clark Day, one of those accused by the Nitto girl of participation in a wild party here last October, forgot her animosity, removed her long black gloves, and aided in reviving the girl.

Pandemonium reigned in the courtroom as everyone inside the railing rushed to her aid. It was five minutes before she was revived.

The Nitto girl had just been through a grueling 45 minutes of direct examination, during which she had sobbingly related her relations with Pantages in a hotel room.

In a faltering voice which was so low at times that she had to be admonished to speak up, the Nitto girl detailed her trip to San Diego with Mrs. Day when she was told she was to be Pantages' girl.

"We left Johnson at the Union station and took a taxi to the hotel," she continued. "We read magazines until Shreve came in. He said he hadn't been able to find Pantages yet, and produced a bottle of liquor. I didn't drink any."

"Then he took us to a show where we remained an hour, and then came back to the hotel. We all went up to Pantages' room, and there were some more drinks served. Mills came in for a while and then left, leaving me alone with Pantages."

"He turned out all but one light and sat down beside me on the bed. I talked Italian for him for a while."

Here the girl became so emotional fighting to withhold her tears, that she was cautioned by Judge L. N. Turrentine to "take her time."

Aviation Officer Forfeits Bail On Reno Drunk Count

RENO, Nev., June 5.—(UP)—Failing to appear in police court on charges of being drunk and disturbing the peace, Lieut. Commander George Price, U. S. N., aviation officer stationed at San Diego, forfeited $50 bail today.

Price is here for a divorce from Mrs. Elizabeth Walsley Price.

His arrest was the first involving a prominent visitor since Reno's "liberal renaissance" began.

He declined to indulge in direct comparison as to the relative safety of his transatlantic flight from New York to Paris and the forthcoming flight to the Orient.

"Of course, this trip isn't over organized airways," he admitted. "The situation is altogether different from the other trip. There has been a vast improvement in equipment since then."

He suggested he felt the improved equipment, particularly the pontoons, tended to reduce hazards materially.

Mrs. Lindbergh will do her share in piloting the plane.

"She has always been of assistance to me," Lindbergh said. Mrs. Lindbergh now has a pilot's license.

Moreover, both the Colonel and Mrs. Lindbergh can operate radio, and such equipment will be added. This is in contrast to the "Spirit of St. Louis" which winged from New York to Paris without radio and with comparatively few of the equipment refinements which aviation progress has developed in the few years since that memorable journey.

"We will probably take off from North Beach airport, L. L.," the Colonel said, "but it is not certain whether Seattle will be the last stop on U. S. territory. We have not completed the itinerary, but we expect to start within a few weeks. We are not entirely certain as to how long we shall be gone."

"This is purely a visit."

Aviatrix Stops In Salt Lake City On California Flight

SALT LAKE CITY, Utah, June 5.—(UP)—Amelia Earhart, making a leisurely cross country flight, continued westward today. She took off for Reno, Nev., at 9:22 a. m.

Miss Earhart said she planned to stop at Wendover, Elko, Mountain and Lovelock, Nev., to refuel her auto-gyro plane. She arrived here last night after an uneventful flight from Cheyenne, Wyo.

After arriving in San Francisco, Miss Earhart said her plans were indefinite.

Lone Wolf Tells Plans For Flight

Mrs. Lindbergh Will Do Her Share of Piloting Huge Airplane

Copyright 1931 by United Press

NEW YORK, June 5.—(UP)—Col. Charles A. Lindbergh and his wife plan to make their forthcoming aerial "visit" to the Orient a round trip by air, he told the United Press today.

The "visit" as he terms his new venture into the air was announced at the state department as a flight to China and Japan, but it was not stated whether he would come back in his plane.

"We hadn't contemplated coming back any other way," he said today in revealing that his plans contemplate a round trip journey.

The probable routing involves several over-water jumps, but these are not of extreme distance. However, weather conditions are almost never ideal over the stretch, and sudden storms are frequent.

It was clear Lindbergh was not particularly hazardous. His observation as to organized airways, however, gave a clue to his realization that the new trip, while "purely a visit," involves possible obstacles.

The United Press asked Colonel Lindbergh the questions indicated above, and he answered freely. The interview came during the forenoon, after a press conference with the colonel had been cancelled because the colonel notified his office here that he was unable to arrive for it.

Lindbergh is now equipping his plane with pontoons at the North Beach airport for the over-water jumps on his itinerary. The itinerary incidentally is not yet complete, but Lindbergh said that he is planning to start within a few weeks.

Second Snubbing of European Tour Administered to U. S. Mayors

LILLE, France, June 5.—(UP)—The second snubbing of their European jaunt was administered to America's group of junketing mayors today when Mayor Roger Salengro, socialist mayor of Lille, refused to receive the delegation at the Lille town hall.

Mayor Salengro pointed out that he was a sympathizer with Nicola Sacco and Bartolomeo Vanzetti, whose trial and execution in Massachusetts attracted world-wide attention. Deputy Mayor Spriet, however, received the group and endeavored to spread oil on the ruffled waters by delivering a eulogy of President Hoover.

A speech in response was made by Mayor J. B. Bright, of Richmond, Va.

The mayors climbed Vimy Ridge and started exploration of the trenches. When an effort was made to hurry them away to keep up with their schedule, some of them became angry and hid in the dugouts, delaying departure of the party.

A previous snub had been given on the mayors at Strasbourg when city officials left in order to avoid meeting them.

FLYING BOAT CREW PLANS U. S. FLIGHT

NATAL, Brazil, June 5.—(UP)—The German flying yacht DO-X, arrived at 2 p. m. today, completing its flight across the Atlantic from West Africa. It had taken off from the island of Fernando Noronha, 125 miles from the coast of Brazil, where a halt was made for refueling at 12:45 p. m.

Those with the plane said they expected to proceed to the United States within a short time without visiting South American countries other than Brazil.

Arrival here completed a voyage marked by two major disasters, and several minor ones. The DO-X started from Switzerland last November 5. High waves damaged the plane when it reached the Canary Islands, and at Lisbon a wing caught fire and virtual rebuilding of the craft was necessitated. From Africa, halts were made at the Cape Verde islands and Fernando Noronha.

Hearing On State Pension Plan Set For Next Tuesday

SACRAMENTO, June 5.—(UP)—A public hearing on the measure appropriating $1,350,000 for establishing a retirement and pension system for California's 16,000 state employees will be held in Sacramento Tuesday by Governor Rolph.

The measure, adopted by the legislature, would carry out an act approved by voters of the state at last November's election.

WILL ROGERS says:

BEVERLY HILLS, June 5. [To the Editor of The Register:] We used to always be talking and "sloganing" about "back to normalcy." Well, that's right where we are now, and where we are going to stay, so we might just as well get used to it. It's taught us one important fact, that we haven't got as many "big men" as we thought we had. We used to think every head of a big organization was a "big man." And he was, as long as everything was running in spite of him. But when old man "get back to earth" hit us in the jaw, why we didn't have any industry that shrunk like the "big man" industry did. Big men are just like stocks now, they are selling at just what they are worth, no more.

Yours,
WILL ROGERS.

Federal Jury Brings True Bill in Charging Evasion of Income Tax Return MAY PLEAD GUILTY

Attorney Approaches Official With Negotiations to Admit All Charges

BULLETIN

CHICAGO, June 5.—(UP)—Al Capone surrendered late today to government authorities after he had been indicted on charges of evading the income tax.

The gang chief appeared at the clerk of the court's office shortly before 4 p. m. C. S. T., and began arranging $50,000 bond.

CHICAGO, June 5.—(UP)—Scarface Al Capone was indicted today by a federal grand jury on charges of evading payment of income taxes on the hundreds of thousands of dollars he wrested from Chicago's rackets.

Simultaneously William F. Waugh, one of Capone's attorneys, revealed that he had approached the district attorney's office with negotiations for the gang chief to plead guilty to the charges.

With the indictment was revealed the story of how government agents conducted a secret two year investigation into Capone's myriad of financial affairs from coast to coast, questioned 1000 persons who had dealings with the nation's foremost gangster and called several hundred witnesses before this and previous grand juries before rounding out their case against Capone.

The indictment charged that Capone took $915,552.95 in underworld profits during the years 1925, '26, '27, '28 and '29 and that he evaded the government $182,591.24 in taxes.

The indictment charges six separate felonies and two misdemeanors against the gang chief in a total of 23 counts—enough to remove Capone from the gangland picture to a prison cell for 32 years if convicted.

Capone was reported hiding in Chicago, pending outcome of his attorney's negotiations.

The indictment characterizes Capone as "Alphonse Capone, alias Alphonse Brown, alias Al Capone, alias Al Brown, alias 'Scarface' Brown, alias 'Scarface' Capone, alias A. Costa," the last a few names for the gang leader.

Counts one to four charge that Capone made a gross income of $257,286.98 in 1925 from his triple racket and that he owes for that year taxes of $55,365.25.

Counts five to eight deal with 1926 when his income was set at $195,677 with a tax due of $39,962.75.

STAGE EMPLOYEES TAKE SALARY CUT

NEW YORK, June 5.—(UP)—A voluntary wage cut of $3,450,000 was being voted by members of the International Alliance of Theatrical Stage Employees and Motion Picture Machine Operators, according to announcement by William Cavanaugh, international president of the union.

The reduction, which will be taken from pay envelopes of individual union members during a 10-week period, constitutes a 5 to 7 1/2 per cent cut in individual salaries.

The action was taken, according to the announcement, to help the large operators of motion picture houses, such as Paramount-Public, Loew's, R. K. O. and Warner Brothers, through a period of financial difficulty during which the majority of the union members felt that they should cooperate.

She then told how Pantages had made advances to her, which she repulsed several times. She sobbed openly as she related the act which was the foundation for the charges against the theater man.

When she had spurned Pantages, she declared, he asked her why she was there. "I told him my father was in San Quentin and that I had to support my mother. Olive told me to tell him that," she said.

"Pantages gave me $10 and told me not to tell the others," she continued. "Then the others came back and we went to Shreve's room, where Helen was in bed alone. Later that night, Olive gave us each $15 and we went back to Los Angeles the next day."

As the 11 o'clock recess was called, Miss Nitto collapsed.

Under cross examination by Jerry Geisler, chief of Pantages' battery of attorneys, the Nitto girl was forced to admit that when she told Pantages she never had improper relations, she lied.

A bitter argument between counsel immediately arose. Geisler told the court he would attempt to show that the girl's past had a direct bearing in the case. In that if he could show she lied about other things, it was possible she lied about the occurrence in Pantages' room.

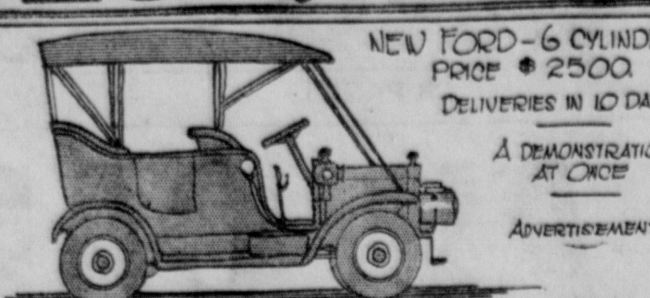

"The supreme court has held in the Pantages-Pringle case that it is proper to delve into the past of witnesses in an attempt to impeach them," Geisler declared.

"I intend to ask her one question. Isn't it true that you worked only four weeks during the last year?" That question, I hold, will definitely show the girl's character.

"This not only goes into her capacity for truth and veracity, but it brings up the very important question as to whether the act alleged in the complaint

During her testimony the Nitto girl said she was 17 years of age last February, and born in Italy. She came to Los Angeles from New York in 1920 with another girl, she declared.

Attorneys were still arguing the admissibility of evidence regarding her past when court was adjourned until the afternoon.

Counts 18 to 22 set his income for 1929 at $104,000 with a tax of $15,817.75.

One suppressed indictment returned March 13, 1931, but not revealed until today, set Capone's income in 1924 at $123,101.89 with a tax of $22,489.89.

Al is among the last of the "big shot" gangsters the government hopes to put behind bars from now until after the 1933 World's fair.

Ralph, his brother, was convicted and sentenced to three years; Frank Nitti, Al's cousin, pleaded guilty and was sentenced to 18 months; Jack Guzik, Capone's right hand man, was convicted and sentenced to five years; Sam Guzik, brother of Jack, was convicted and sentenced to one year.

Besides them, predecessors of Capone in the beer racket, have pleaded guilty tentatively. The charges against all were evasion of income tax.

In society. It was a pleasure for me to meet this group and I intend to co-operate with them to the very best of my ability for the efficient management of the institutions of California. Upon completion of my detailed inspection at the Whittier state school I shall be happy to confer with the group present today regarding the future policy and personnel of that institution."

Citizens' Statements

The following statement was issued by the citizens' committee:

"Doctor Toner and citizens agreed that:

"1. Dismissals or appointments will be made only after submitting written charges to the superintendent to be discharged with the privilege of being heard.

"2. That appointments or dismissals will be made only upon the approval of the majority of the six doctors appointed by the state medical association as advisory to Doctor Toner.

"3. Paragraph two applies to institutions known or located at Napa, Mendocino, Stockton, Norwalk, Patton, Agnew, Sonoma and the narcotic, also the feeble minded institution at Spadra.

"4. That the citizens committee north and south will nominate 12 persons from whom Doctor Toner may select six and if he cannot select persons agreeable to him from the first 12 so nominated then a second group of 12 persons shall be nominated from which two groups of doctors will select six.

Five that this committee of six shall act in advisory capacity similar to the doctors described in paragraphs one and two for the institutions at Whittier, Preston, Ventura and Oakland and that Doctor Toner will select a committee of six within 60 days after receiving the first nominations. No member of the committee shall receive compensation for his services. The committee shall visit each institution at least every three months and report their findings and recommendations to Doctor Toner.

Seven, that the superintendent of Whittier should be a man with educational background and experience as to give assurance or proper motivation and expert leadership of the best. The committee suggested that such superintendent should at least be able to meet the requirements set down for the civil service examination for the selection of a chief probation officer of Los Angeles county.

Eight, Doctor Toner gave assurance that he would examine into the qualifications of the personnel at Whittier and that he would advise today's committee of his findings and proposed actions. This meeting will take place the week of June 27.

Murphy Statement

Elmer R. Murphy, secretary of the citizens' committee, gave out the following statement:

"This statewide committee of citizens has been emphasizing that various institutions of this state shall not be used as the spoils of political office; that men shall neither be appointed or discharged because of their personal political support of any candidate; that men who are well qualified by study, experience and training shall be placed in charge of these state institutions with absolute freedom to conduct them in the interest of the inmates. This we emphasize because of the discharges and appointments as at the Whittier Boys' school, which situation in our opinion demands correction.

R. R. HAYS JR. PRESIDENT OF UNDERWRITERS

Elected president of the Orange County Life Underwriters association last night Rolla Hays Jr. was seated succeeding his brother W. E. Hays, who has held that office for the past year. The election was held at a dinner-meeting of the group in the Santa Ana cafe. Other officers elected were: Fred Rowland, vice-president; R. G. Cartwright, secretary-treasurer and W. E. Hays, J. H. Sewell, Guy Gilbert, Charles Geren and M. B. Youel, members of the advisory board. Out-going officers in addition to Past President Hays are: H. W. Faris, vice-president and Blanche S. Brown, secretary-treasurer.

Following the election and seating of officers the new leaders of the organization outlined their objectives for the coming year and three important committee heads were appointed. Fred Rowland was named chairman of the educational committee or speakers' bureau. The public relations committee, to work with the chamber of commerce for the purpose of establishing a life insurance bureau for that organization will be headed by Guy Gilbert and James Sewell was named chairman of the publicity and advertising committee.

Institutional advertising plans that will include the use of newspapers and possibly the radio were discussed and the committee headed by Sewell was ordered to be prepared to submit a report on the plan not later than July 1.

CHARGES AGAINST FOUR FILED TODAY

Four informations were filed in superior court today before Judge James L. Allen during the session of criminal court, by the office of District Attorney Sam L. Collins. Only one of the defendants was arraigned, the other cases being continued until the late afternoon session.

Stephen Reyes, upon arraignment entered a plea of guilty to a charge on non-support of his five minor children and made application for probation. Date of the probation hearing was not set due to the fact that the prisoner is to come into court again late this afternoon to seek freedom on his own recognizance.

Percy G. Howe, alias George Miller, was charged with forgery of a prescription in the information against him. It is alleged that he forged a prescription on a Long Beach doctor for morphine sulphate and passed it on a Santa Ana drug store on May 10.

The other two cases were those of M. R. Owens, charged with burglary of the Goetz service station on South Main street on May 27, and Andrew Wilcox, charged with contributing to the delinquency of a minor. They were scheduled to be arraigned this afternoon.

Radio Actors To Present Comedy

The KREG Dramatic players tonight will present "Love Me, Love My Dog" over the Santa Ana radio station. They will be on the air from 8:30 to 9 p. m.

The play is a comedy about divorce proceedings. Harry Brackett, Lulu Brackett and George Richardson will appear in the production.

HENRY COWDER TO SPEND TWO YEARS IN JAIL

Two unusual cases were disposed of in superior court today by Judge James L. Allen in the session of criminal court, when two men who had sought prison sentences were granted probation by the court.
Henry Cowder, alias Kenneth Crowder, copper appearing youth, charged with burglary, was granted probation for five years on condition that he spend two years in the county jail and then be turned over to Los Angeles county authorities on a grand theft charge they have against the prisoner. Cowder asked the court that his petition for probation be denied, which the court refused. He then sought to have the sentence suspended here so that he could immediately be turned over to Los Angeles county—evidently seeking to be sent to prison from that source—but this request was also denied by the court.

Judge Allen in commenting on the case declared that there was something peculiar behind it all along, which had not yet been brought to the surface. Young Cowder was arrested in Orange county the first day after he had been released on probation by Los Angeles county, it was stated by probation officers.
The other case was that of Charles B. Johnson, who on May 3 had forged a check for $25 and who at the time of his arraignment said he did not desire to ask probation but wanted to take his punishment. Judge Allen in granting probation today said he felt it was the case of a man who had lost his nerve and become dependent, but that he believed the man would make good. Probation was granted for a period of two years and the prisoner is to serve 60 days in the county jail. Credit is to be allowed for the time already spent in jail, which is four weeks.

Peralta School Present Program

VILLA PARK, June 5.—The closing exercises of the Peralta school, taught by Mrs. Mary Robinson of Villa Park, were held at the schoolhouse in Santa Ana canyon. The program was as follows: "Welcome," Henry Ayala; song, "Come, Let Us Make a Garden," by pupils of the lower grades; drum song, Henry Ayala; song, "Estrellita," by pupils of the upper grades; recitation, "The Big Question," Carol Atchey; cello solo, Mr. Rodriguez; accompanied by Miss Ruth Frothingham; "A Glad Vacation," Lucille Danker; "Sailing Song," upper grades; "Did You Pass?" Helen Atchey; a composition on "How to Breathe," Raymond Cooper; orchestra; "Farewell," Miss Louise Sepulveda; vocal solo, Miss Lila Nightingale; dialogue, upper grades; "Butterfly Dance," Eva Arellano and Henry Ayala; "When the Bloom Is on the Sage," "Home on the Range," seventh and eighth grades.
A diploma was presented by the trustees of the school to Miss Lucille Sepulveda, who has successfully completed the eighth grade work. Accompaniments were played by Mrs. Harry Skiles of El Modena. The orchestra members were Mr. Ayala and Mr. Arellano of Peralta, Mr. Rodriguez of Santa Ana and Miss Ruth Frothingham of Santa Ana.

Laguna Beach P. O. Showing Increase

LAGUNA BEACH, June 4.—Outstripping all former records, the postoffice made a business gain of 49 per cent for May 1931 over May 1930. This is reported by Postmaster Brayton S. Norton.
The best previous record was made in March when the gain was 44 per cent. In April it was 24 per cent, so that the record for the three months constitutes an average gain of almost 40 per cent for each of the months.
The mail boxes are all taken, with a waiting list of 20 already, Mr. Norton says, and the season not yet started. Whether or not city delivery will be started this summer has not yet been decided. A thorough survey was made by an inspector less than a month ago.

Calvin Coolidge Says

BY CALVIN COOLIDGE
NORTHAMPTON, Mass., June 5.—The pulpit and the commencement platform frequently assert that our governmental and economic system is in a trial. The inference is that it has failed.
When told that Christianity had failed Beecher said that it had never been tried. The same reply is applicable to criticism of our system. It has not been tried.

We live under a system of individual freedom and self-government where each individual is entitled to the rewards of his own foresight and industry and is charged with his own support. The only way to change this system is to restrict the freedom of the individual, let someone else govern him, give the rewards of his industry to others and make him support others. That system is slavery.

For two thousand years the Ten Commandments and The Sermon on the Mount have been preached. Because of ignorance and selfishness their teaching has not been fully accepted and adopted.

Our country has provided a system of government and economics. The same ignorance and selfishness have prevented its complete success. Our religious and social systems have not failed. They are sound. The failure lies in human imperfections. We need to grow in social and religious grace.

HOLD NOMINATIONS AT FREMONT SCHOOL

ANAHEIM, June 5.—At a special nomination assembly held yesterday at the Fremont school, 19 students were nominated to serve as officers for the coming school year. Each nominee had a campaign manager, who made a speech in the assembly, telling why his candidate should be elected. The student governing body is patterned after the city council.
Those who were nominated for councilmen with their respective campaign managers are as follows: Jimmy Morris, Paul Hedges; Jerald Nesmith, Gordon Lewis; David Bush, Elizabeth Jackson; Allan Hall, Jean Gordon; Helen Tobin, Betty Peitzke; Helen Pifer, Margaret Cadin; Wallace Fee, Frank O'Chow; Henry Ruiz, Willard Bath; J. C. Moss, Jerald Nesmith; Martin Geissler, Clinton Flynn; Harlan Mills, Lawrence White; Charles Vilabos, Thornton Miller; Paul Hedges, Harold Moselman; Howard Taylor, Clyde Sweeney.

For clerk, the following were nominated by their campaign managers: Helen Hopkins, Marian Gragg; Nina Blank, Dorothy Palnton; Mary Frances Fraser, Genevieve St. Claire; Genevieve St. Claire, Maxine Ralme; Virginia Sake, Mary J. Anderson.

STUDENTS PRESENT PROGRAM IN BREA

BREA, June 5.—Musical talent of the Brea-Olinda Union High school furnished the entertainment for the Lions club luncheon meeting here Thursday, with A. H. Brown, president of the high school board, in charge of the program.

The high school brass band of about 25 pieces favored with several numbers and several songs were sung by the male quartet of the school. Cornet solos and several numbers by "Shorty's Gang" rounded out the program. The "gang" comprises four high school boys who appear under the direction of Coach "Shorty" Smith, play harmonicas and guitars and doing an occasional bit of singing and dancing.

New members initiated at this meeting were J. R. Newman and Vincent Jaster. Jack Collins was asked to take the program arrangements for next week. Collins, Harlan LeGro and Dr. Glenn Curtis will leave here tomorrow for Yosemite, where they will join Ben Sutton, the four to represent the Brea den in the state convention being held there.

SENATOR SHORTRIDGE OPENS VALENCIA SHOW AND FAIR AS 6000 PERSONS ENTER TENTS

More than 6000 persons crowded through the turnstiles last night to hear United States Senator Samuel Shortridge deliver the address that formally opened the Orange County Valencia Orange Show and Fair and to pay annual tribute to this county's greatest asset—the orange.

In spite of the fact that the gates of the exposition were formally opened at noon yesterday the formal opening did not occur until 8 o'clock last night, when Lotus H. Loudon, president of the board in charge of this year's show introduced city and county officials and other members of the board and called upon Senator Shortridge and Lt. Gov. Frank B. Merriam for addresses.

Attendance figures for yesterday, according to officials of the exposition, were much larger than attendance figures for any orange show or fair conducted in this county in the past and the excitement is that each day of the show will result in a marked increase in attendance.

The show this year is a combination of the annual California Valencia Orange show and Orange County Community fair, retaining unique features of both and offering entertainment seldom attempted as a community event. In addition to displaying the sources of this county's wealth under the one big top that houses the show this year, entertainment has been provided for the amusement-loving public.

Tribute to the golden Valencia orange—this county's outstanding agricultural resource—is paid this year against a background unusually appropriate. Directors of the show selected "The Golden Days of Montezuma" decorative motif for Orange county's contribution to California's fiesta year and decorators were given opportunity for many bizarre and colorful effects.

Presenting a gorgeous and artistic effect the front section of the tent is given over to a citrus display brought to the exposition by practically every community in this section of the state. Striking exhibits have been entered by the Santa Ana Chamber of Commerce, the city of Orange, the National Orange show at San Bernardino, Los Angeles county, Pomona and other communities. In addition to the feature exhibits the various farm centers of this and other counties have erected displays showing the various products of the district are presented in long rack displays and exhibits ranged along the sides of the big tent. One of the outstanding exhibits in this class is the sub-tropical display featuring the avocado. While the annual presentation is a little early this year for a showing of all sub-tropical fruits grown in Orange county it offered ample opportunity to exploit the avocado, which is rapidly coming to the front as one of the county's assets.

A model orange packing plant, established at the fair by the Orange County Growers' Exchange, showing every phase of the business surrounding preparation of the orange for the market, is one of the outstanding features of the exhibit. Expert orange packers from every plant in the county and including several former national champions are at work in the plant wrapping and packing the golden fruit for shipment to the markets of the world. The model plant is in operation for two hours each afternoon and three hours in the evening passing approximately 200 boxes of fruit from the field boxes to the crates, where they are neatly wrapped.

BREA, June 5.—Little but the discussion of water supply for the city of Brea was transacted at the regular session of the city council here Wednesday night. Definite decision was reached to accept the offer of C. C. Crookshank, orange grower, to take water from a well recently drilled on his ranch should the need arise.

W. A. Culp was again present with his proposition for the purchase by the city of a well on South Redwood belonging to Culp & Sexton but no agreement to that effect was reached between him and the council members.

ELLIOTT READY TO TALK ABOUT WATER ISSUES

G. A. Elliott, of San Francisco, chairman of the board of engineers which made a flood control and water conservation report to the board of supervisors on April 28, has stated that he will be glad to appear before the board of supervisors for questioning by members of the board concerning various phases of the report, it was learned today.

Elliott, who made this statement when in Santa Ana early this week, is to be back through here tomorrow on his way north. He has been engaged in inspection of several dams near San Diego in connection with his work on a state committee on dam safety.

The chairman informed County Flood Control Engineer Murray N. Thompson that he would be glad to come before the supervisors any time he was in this part of the state to answer their questions on any subject covered by the report or in connection with it.

Suggestion that members of the board of engineers be brought into the county for questioning has been made by the Affiliated Water committee, which is an organization composed of water committees of various organizations in the county. This, it was believed, would provide authentic information on several subjects in connection with the report and thus avoid controversies based on inaccuracies.

INSTALL OFFICERS OF WOMEN'S CLUB

LOS ALAMITOS, June 5.—The final meeting of the Women's Improvement club, until September, was held Wednesday afternoon in the club house. The installation ceremonies were conducted by Mrs. Joseph Thurston of Laguna Beach, district president.

The new officers are Mrs. E. J. Johns unanimously elected for a third term as president; Mrs. Grace Green, vice president; Mrs. H. E. Thompson, secretary; Mrs. J. W. Smoot, treasurer; Mrs. A. C. Robinson, auditor and Mrs. E. J. Jones, parliamentarian.

Preceding the business meeting was a luncheon to which a few guests were bidden.

The president's gifts to her retiring officers were corsages of gardenias. The club's gift to the president was a rare desert plant.

SCHOOL CRAFT WORK EXHIBIT ENDS SATURDAY

Displayed as an indication of the work being done in the mechanic arts department of the Santa Ana High school and Junior college, an exhibit at 429 West Fourth street is being viewed this week by interested friends, parents and citizens.

Every department is represented and articles are shown from the mill, cabinet and woodwork shops, print shop, forge, welding and machine shop and mechanical drawing rooms. The school work will remain in the store until tomorrow night.

The mill cabinet exhibit, supervised by Charles L. Tibbets, instructor, has a wide variety of furniture.

The first year classes in the forge and welding department have a display including two sample stools made of metal, which at the type that will be used at the new Frances Willard Junior High school, since the high school student manufactured 75 of these stools. Byron Quivey, instructor, also has arranged a variety of other articles in the exhibit.

The machine shop, under the direction of Chester Blacow, has a few pieces of equipment made in the shops, including a small drill press, tools and several vices. The walls of the exhibit are lined with blueprints and projects of the mechanical drawing students, made under the direction of Rufus G. Bond.

Thomas E. Williams, printing instructor, has entered a few of his latest works, including a set of color prints he has turned out for the "Block Prints of the Southland" series. The pictures were drawn by Jean Goodwin, with verse accompanying by Eleanor Northcross. There are also sample pages of a recent book printed at the junior college, "History of Orange County."

ICE CREAM AND CAKE SERVED TO 268 INMATES OF COUNTY JAIL BY GROUP OF TEACHERS

Ice cream and cake were served to the 268 inmates of the county jail last night through the courtesy of the six teachers who have been carrying on the work of rehabilitation there during the past year, according to Mrs. Golden Weston, head of the adult education department, who has been directing the work at the institution and officiated at last evening's occasion.

The "treat" was provided by the instructors to show their appreciation of the co-operation given them by the inmates of the jail during the year's educational programs.

Chinese boys in the jail provided the surprise for the occasion when they showed that they didn't know what to do with the ice cream. Some of them set their dishes aside to take home as souvenirs of the affair.

Funds to provide the "treat" were raised through voluntary contributions from Mrs. Weston, who sponsored the plan; Elbe Johnson, psychologist and ecologist, who has been in charge of educational tests and opportunity classes; Milton V. Newcomer, instructor in commercial law, who has been lecturing in economics; L. W. Archer, of the physical education department, who has been conducting classes in callisthenics for all inmates; Edgar M. Flowers, instructor in journalism, who has been giving talks on current history, and Ruth Gordon, of Julia Lathrop Junior High school, who has been in charge of instructing Mexican inmates in English.

"These instructors," said Mrs. Weston, "have been instrumental in building up a bigger and better program of rehabilitation for these people who have made social mistakes. We have tried to give all an opportunity to participate in some activity."

The educational program at the jail is now in its third year. It started with one class in English for the Mexican men, taught by Mrs. Weston. Gradually other classes have been offered, the county library established a service unit with a trusty in charge under the direction of Miss Margaret E. Livingston has been added and at present Judge James L. Allen is directing the establishment of a permanent library inside the jail.

The program has been built around the following objectives: 1. To bring something into the long periods of leisure which will stimulate constructive thinking or will at least make the men think part of the time about something outside of themselves. 2. To develop better attitudes on the part of the men toward society. 3. To raise their educational levels. 4. To improve their general health through outdoor exercise.

All class participation is voluntary and only the physical education classes are open to men being held for deportation. The work is one phase of the adult education department of the Santa Ana high school and is financed by the board of education.

"Miss Johnson has made graphs of the men's records and it has been most interesting to find that they form almost a normal curve, or in other words, they are just a cross section of life, ranging from sub-normal to the superior type," said Mrs. Weston.

The federal inspector has rated the work very highly as rehabilitation and said it was the finest piece of work of its kind that he had found in his visits to the county jails. Care is taken never to let the men feel that they are subjects of curiosity but opportunity to observe the work by those who are vitally interested can be arranged with Mrs. Weston.

Lucas Lucio, representative of the Mexican consul, and Mrs. Lucio were visitors last night, and J. A. Cranston has kept in close touch with the program and visited various classes.

FUNERAL RITES HELD FOR MRS. HARRIET EARL

With scores of Santa Ana and out-of-town friends gathered to pay a final tribute, funeral rites were held yesterday afternoon at the Smith and Tuttle Funeral Home for Mrs. Harriet E. Earl, well known matron and active church worker of this city. The services were conducted by Dr. Frederick G. Davies, assisted by the Rev. Herman G. Powell.

Mrs. Earl had been a member of the First Baptist church of Santa Ana since her arrival in California and the following churchmen were pallbearers yesterday: P. H. Norton, John J. Harrison, Frank E. Moore, Edw. A. Baird, Charles E. Pollins and Mac O. Robbins. Members of the Fidelity class, of which Mrs. Earl had been the teacher for the past 10 years, attended the services in a body. Mrs. Charles G. Nalle and Mrs. J. P. Williams sang solos during the service, with Miss Mayme Y. Havens accompanying them at the piano.

Out-of-town friends of Mrs. Earl who attended the services were Messrs. and Mesdames F. A. Fairbanks, A. B. Ellis, William Crane, Ernest Babbcock, W. B. Sleeper, and Mrs. Mary Beardsley, all of Los Angeles; Messrs. and Mesdames Kern Douglas and L. J. Smith; Mr. John Moore, Miss Laura Moore, Mrs. F. H. Pike, Mrs. Edna Hendrie, and Miss Nellie Mooers, all of Long Beach; Mr. and Mrs. W. A. Hildreth, Mrs. C. A. Newell, Mrs. Carle Boulton, Mrs. Daisy Kearns, Pasadena; Mr. and Mrs. W. J. Rice, Fullerton; Mrs. A. D. Dennison, Riverside and Mr. and Mrs. Horace Newman of Orange.

Interment was in Fairhaven cemetery.

THREE INJURED IN TWO AUTO CRASHES

Three persons were reported injured in two automobile accidents reported in Santa Ana yesterday.

Miss Fern Lentzinger, of 186 South Cypress street, Orange, and her mother, Mrs. R. K. Lentzinger, of the same address, were badly injured at 5:30 o'clock last night when the car, driven by the daughter, collided with a car operated by Jack C. Ellis, of 1816 Heliotrope drive, at North Ross street and Washington avenue.

The Lentzinger machine was traveling west on Washington avenue and Hills was going north on Ross street.

Mrs. Lentzinger suffered a concussion of the brain and cuts and bruises and Miss Lentzinger received a badly lacerated hand and other injuries. Both are in the Santa Ana Valley hospital, where they were taken in a Winbiger ambulance.

Mrs. M. E. Lamb, of 1403 South Ross street, received minor injuries yesterday when the car in which she was riding with her husband collided with a car driven by Marvin Titchner, 26, of 417 Harwood street. She was taken to her home.

MONOXIDE GAS CAUSES DEATH OF OLE HARBY

Following threats which he is said to have made at various times, Ole Harby, 52, Santa Ana cement worker, committed suicide early today by inhaling poisonous carbon monoxide fumes generated from the engine of his automobile, while the car was parked at his home at 702 East Walnut street.

The body was found shortly after 6 a. m. today by Mrs. Viola Jenks, daughter of Mr. Harby. She notified the police, who brought the coroner in on the case.

Coroner Brown stated that after an investigation he would not hold an inquest, he being satisfied that the death was with suicidal intent.

Harby attached a rubber hose from the manifold of his engine and ran it into his sedan. He then shut all the windows and allowed the motor to run. He had been dead only a short time when his body was found, officers said, they believing that he decided to kill himself early this morning.

No note was found.

The body was removed to the Smith and Tuttle Funeral parlors where funeral services will be held at 2 o'clock Saturday afternoon.

Mr. Harby is survived by his widow, Mrs. Dorothy Harby; three daughters, Mrs. Jenks, Miss Myrtle Harby and Mrs. Ann Taylor, all of Santa Ana, and A. J. Harby, a brother, who also lives here.

LATHROP LINE-UP OFFERS NEWS NOTES OF INTEREST

Interesting Assembly

A very interesting assembly was given recently when Will Lea, better known as Cho-Cho, the Health Clown, performed before a general assembly. He is 72 years of age, but with his make-up on, one would never know it. If anyone has muscle, it is Cho-Cho.

He has a chest expansion of 7 1/2 inches, and can do things not every man can do. He was once a member of a circus. Perhaps it would be interesting to know one of his bright sayings. He was singing a song, and two of the animals he mentioned were a bullfrog and a cow-frog. "Do you know what a cow-frog is?" asked Cho-Cho. "If you don't know I'll tell you. A cow-frog is a bull-frog's sister."

He provided plenty of amusement as well as plenty of instruction about good health, and why he has it.

I. X. L. Election

The Boys' I. X. L. club elections were held this month. Those running were: Bain Alexander; vice president; Jack Files; secretary-treasurer; Fred Watts; sergeant-at-arms; Jack Hubbard; reporter; Franklin Davis; yell leader, Gene Miller. Those elected went to office next semester.

E. G. C. Officers

The new Every Girl's club officers have been elected. The girls that opposed each other were: President, Ione Hooven and Alice Browne; vice president, Virginia Motley and Dorothy Van Dusen; secretary, Anita Stewart and Dorothy Carlson; treasurer, Pauline Purkey and Eloise Bradley; reporter, Juliette Wolven and Mary Hengstler; yell leader, Janice Johnson and Mary Veach.

Those elected were: President, Alice Brown; vice president, Dorothy Van Dusen; secretary, Dorothy Carlson; treasurer, Eloise Bradley; reporter, Juliette Wolven, and yell leader, Janice Johnson.

Glee Club Members

The new Glee club members have been chosen. Those that will now make up the chorus are: First sopranos: Wilhelmina Dominguez, Gloria Mawson, Eloise Bradley, Marjorie Wonder, Anne Wetherell, Helen Trickey, Josephine Ayala, Phyllis Jensen, Gwendolyn Griffin, Aloen Miller, Helen Meyer, Tamiko Higashi, Virginia Scott, Jean McKamy, Martha Jane Hand and Virginia Pritchard. Altos: Vivian White, Ione Hooven, Harriett Skinner, Patty Clark, Marjorie Johnson, Virginia Motley, Helen Pierce, Betty Bradley, Lois Lambert, Dorothy Dixon, Pauline Chapman, Nele Harvey, Beverly Weindorf, Helen Warner, Lucille Holmes and Helen Pierce. We are sure that these girls will be as much of a credit to the school as the girls before them were.

Park Party

The low nines, first section, enjoyed a party in Irvine park last Friday evening. Rowing and hiking were enjoyed after a wonderful supper.

News Notes

Clinton Campbell enjoyed the beach last week end. He is said to have dived off the end of Balboa pier three times.

The ninth grade assembled last Friday to hear a talk by Lynn Crawford from the high school on what courses the students should take when in high school. He answered many questions concerning the different courses. The high nines are asked to make their selection of courses soon.

The ninth grade girls played the ninth grade boys indoor Tuesday and Wednesday nights. The score was the boys' from the beginning but the girls gave them some competition.

Tennis is played on the "Lathrop Lane Court" by the girls every noon. Some of them are: Clark, Miller, Crawford, Belcher, Farmer, Vanderhorst, Pennington, Howell and Brugger.

Student Body Election The regular student body election of each semester was held at Lathrop May 22. Those running for president were Barbara Rowland and Walter Limbaugh; vice president were Clinton Campbell and Lorene McMillan; secretary, Joy Lea Henderson and June Corry; sergeant-at-arms, Bain Alexander and Paul Pope. Those running for yell leader were Pat Collins and Louise Crawford against Mary Jane Belcher. Those elected were: President, Walter Limbaugh; vice president, Lorene McMillan; secretary, Joy Lea Henderson; sergeant-at-arms, Paul Pope; yell leaders, Pat Collins and Louise Crawford. Those elected will go into office at the beginning of next semester.

Sport News

Members of the boys' varsity team in baseball have had an ever game score during their successful season. Each team which has beaten our "nine" has been beaten by us the second time. The lineup is as follows: Catcher, McCullah; pitcher, Southworth trading positions with Castro who is second short; first base, Burke; second base, Baker; third base, Nibbles; right field, L. Holmes; left field, McCune; center field, Brown; substitutes, Buchaster, Scholutz.

The boys are coached by Scott and their captain is Freddy Southworth. Everyone is invited to our games. They really are good.

HORN TOADS TO RUN IN DESERT DERBY TONIGHT

They're off! Tonight is the night of the much heralded American Legion horn toad derby, which will be run in the Legion hall starting promptly at 8:30 p. m. All provisions have been made for handling one of the largest and most enthusiastic crowds ever to turn out for a local event.

The inside of the Legion hall has been transformed into a veritable Champs Elysees with its many pennants and colorful decorations. Commander W. Hunter Leach declared. The race course has been pronounced by experts as one of the fastest, insuring many outbursts of speed by the "Desert Dusters."

Excitement reigned supreme at the training quarters in the Medlock building at Fifth and Main this afternoon as the trainers and owners gathered to watch the final workouts. Each racer has received his final dish of assorted fats, as well as a thorough grooming, some being rubbed down with oil, soda pop and tobacco sauce, while others were bathed in milk and ice cream, and one little filly had to undergo a bath of tar, but all are limbering up and will appear in the "pink" of condition for that gruelling race tonight.

Promptly at 4 o'clock today they were started for the racing sheds, prepared for them in the Legion hall, adjacent to the track. Some of the owners driving up in autos to transport their favorites, while others carried their "horses" in their vest pockets, none having to negotiate the distance on foot, and these "ant hounds" seemed to sense the nearness of post time, as all appeared more anxious than usual to gallop.

Gledhill's dance band has been engaged to furnish the music for the race and dance.

Suspended Term Given To Youth

A charge of burglary against Lawrence Wolfe, Orange youth, in connection with the theft of a clock from the home of Mrs. Edith Blais, of 923 Winter street, was dismissed in Justice Kenneth Morrison's court yesterday, for the purpose of filing a new complaint.

Wolfe then was taken to the city police court, where he was charged with petty theft, instead, and was sentenced to serve six months in the county jail, the sentence being suspended on condition of good behavior for the next six months.

Zenith Airplane Goes to Alaska

MIDWAY CITY, June 5.—A new Z-6-B plane, built by the Zenith Aircraft corporation, piloted by Norman Post, Boise aviator, has been taken to Seattle. It will be sent to Alaska by boat from Seattle.

The new ship was built for the Gillan Airways company of Chitna, Alaska, and is to be landed at Valdez, Alaska, for assembling for use in the passenger and mail service routes of the company.

This is the second Zenith ship to go to Alaskan companies.

UNUSUAL LOGIC IS DISPLAYED BY EIGHTH GRADE STUDENT IN PROHIBITION ESSAY CONTEST

Using logic unusual for a student in junior high school Margaret Munro, eighth grade student at Frances Willard junior high school, submitted an essay in the recent contest held for Santa Ana students that was declared the best eighth grade paper from all institutions.

The winning essay was on the subject "The Conflict About Alcoholic Drink: Why?"—the same topic assigned all students in the competition. Following is the essay in full:

BY MARGARET MUNRO

The enforcement of prohibition in the United States is the major issue before the country today. It will remain so until the public has been educated enough to realize that prohibition is a real attempt to emancipate the human race from the slavery of drink.

Let us look for the cause of legislation and ask first of all, what is the purpose of law? Why not let everyone do as he pleases, capture his own food and raiment wherever he can, until some stronger person takes them away from him? The reason is that man in the end will get much more out of life by an orderly system of production and exchange and by observing certain standards of conduct.

The eighteenth amendment and the Volstead act are a part of the law of the land. The amendment states that one year from the date of ratification, the manufacture, sale or transportation of intoxicating liquor is prohibited in the United States.

The Volstead act explains the different phases of the amendment and provides for the punishment of violators. This amendment is but an accumulation of years of constant progress of the citizens of our country.

Let us look for a moment to the reason back of the prohibition movement.

We know that the effect of liquor on the human mind was one of the things which made people realize the need for a drastic measure in that direction.

The picture before national prohibition was not a pleasant one. We see, hear and read much about today's rumrunners, drinking parties, corrupt government officials and serious disregard for law among our citizens. Surely today's picture is bad enough. But now let us look back a few years. More than 200,000 saloons were in operation.

What would the situation be today had the old liquor system continued unhampered by national prohibition? Picture the situation of yesterday continued to the present day, only greatly magnified because of increase in population, growth of cities, intense traffic and high power and tension.

England is called a land of personal liberty. A letter received from a group of American Boy Scouts last fall states: "I think we counted at least 14 violently drunk people in two blocks—half were women. It was so disgusting, so degrading that we left the scene, firmly thinking God for American prohibition and convinced that it is our greatest blessing nationally."

When United States was in its infant stage people looked with disgust and distrust upon the drunkard whose children ran the streets and begged for food and clothing. A little later heart rending poems were written to try to show the slow minded public the destruction resulting from constant use of liquor, and the ever-increasing number of saloons, blind pigs and speakeasies.

Slowly it dawned upon this slow minded public that something drastic must be done to preserve civilization and keep it from being utterly abolished.

Several measures were tried, but corruption soon found its way to all of these. The next step was the permission to have a local option—that is for towns or counties to decide whether or not they would permit the sale of liquor within their own areas.

Because the drys were sincere in their work, local option areas increased until it became state-wide discussion of prohibition. Then it became nation-wide discussion, pro and con. No problem ever confronted our nation so overwhelmingly, and no other amendment was adopted so unanimously.

We hear so much about how prohibition was put over on the country while our boys were in France. But this is not so, there were only 14 states that ratified the eighteenth amendment before the Armistice was signed while 32 ratified it afterward.

Now let us consider the two main arguments against prohibition—personal liberty and well establish-

"I Used a Corona at the War Front"

An Actual Experience

The writer of this ad had a Corona portable typewriter at the front in 1918 for 9 months. It was damaged by a piece of shrapnel at Ramboucourt near Mont Sec April 20, 1918, but was crudely repaired and used at Beaumont, Flirey, Chateau Thierry (and during the advance there), at Rupt and Hattonchatel in the St. Mihiel drive.

This Corona was used at Battalion Post of Command for copying radio messages and for the convenience of company officers. On movements it followed tucked away in a combat wagon.

It was entitled to one wound stripe and three service stripes, and should have been decorated with the Croix de Guerre, D. S. C., and any other "hard-ware" available!

There were lots of Coronas at the front then. This was only one of many. They were easy to carry around. They did the work of standard typewriters. They're the best little typewriters made!

SEEK TO REACH AGREEMENT ON BUILDING CODE

Representatives of the Orange County Builder's Exchange and the Farm Bureau met with the planning commission yesterday in the court house annex in an attempt to arrive at an agreement on the territory to be covered by the proposed building, plumbing and electrical ordinance that will be before the board of supervisors in the near future.

Figure presented by Dr. W. L. Bigham, president of the commission, showed that nearly $2,000,000 worth of construction work is done in this county every year and that most of it is not covered by any building ordinances.

Dr. Bigham declared that the board of supervisors had asked the commission to prepare the ordinance and that they intended to do so and would like the help of any interested parties in preparing it.

Roland D. Flaherty, secretary of the Farm Bureau, was present with Col. M. B. Wellington as representative attorney. Flaherty declared that the Farm Bureau did not object to the ordinance except as it applied to farmers. He did not feel that farmers should be forced to obtain a permit to build on their farms, stressing the fact that the average farmer was in bad way financially and any additional burden would be objectionable and that they felt that an ordinance was unnecessary as applied to them.

When asked by the commission if the bureau would object to the ordinance if it excluded all outbuildings to be erected, Flaherty declared that the farmers probably would object to even the inclusion of residences that would be built on their property.

The planning commission expressed surprise at the attitude taken by the Farm Bureau in view of the fact that the commission was trying to work out the ordinance for the benefit of all people in the county and the Farm Bureau had sent the commission a letter stating that 25 meetings of Farm Bureau organizations had been held and that each had passed a motion objecting to the proposed ordinance.

William Tway, representing the Builder's Exchange, was present at the hearing and declared that he deplored the condition that had arisen and that there were two important factors to be considered. The first of these, he said, was a matter of zoning. The other point to be considered, he stated, was the fact that unscrupulous contractors were in the habit of overbidding on jobs and that a building inspection ordinance would help solve this problem.

Dr. Bigham pointed out the object of the proposed ordinance was to prevent the erection of buildings that would constitute a public menace in regard to fire, sanitation and public health.

An agreement was reached whereby Wellington is to meet with a representative of the planning commission in an attempt to evolve an ordinance that would be satisfactory to all concerned.

Dr. Bigham declared that he could see no objection to this and that it was probable that if an agreement was reached the commission would submit a paper expressing the desires of the Farm Bureau with the ordinance to the board of supervisors and let it take such action as it saw fit.

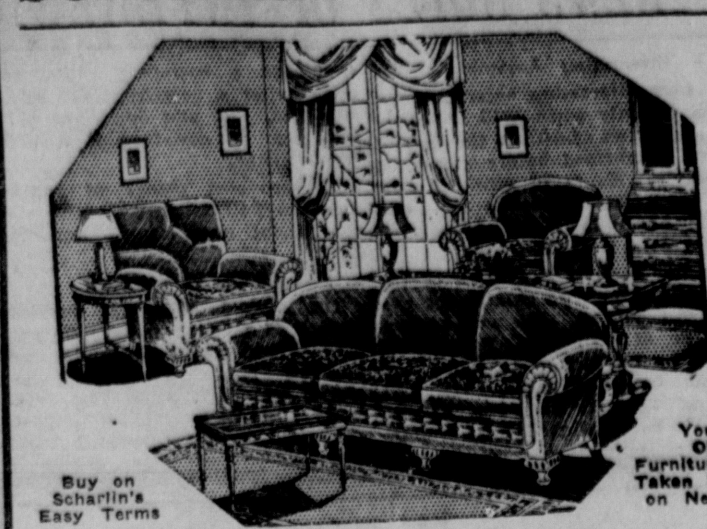

TWO WOMEN FILE DIVORCE ACTIONS

Charges of cruelty are contained in divorce complaints which have been filed in superior court by Margaret A. Leunberger against Ernest Walter Leunberger, and by Carolyn Kinkade against Joseph Kinkade.

Mrs. Leunberger was married March 15, 1920. Separation occurred on May 5, 1931. The complaint declared that her husband insisted that she take up smoking and drinking intoxicating liquors after they were married. The plaintiff asks the custody of the child and $60 a month for support. Presence of two brothers of her husband in their home and his alleged insistence on supporting them and keeping them at the home, is the chief reason mentioned in the complaint filed by Mrs. Kinkade. She asserts in the complaint that her husband told her his brothers came first. She asks $100 monthly as permanent alimony and $75 monthly for the support of their 15 year old son. They were married in 1917 and separated June 8.

ROBBERS' ROOST

by ZANE GREY

INSTALMENT V

Not until the following morning did Jim Wall get a satisfactory scrutiny of the four members of Hays' outfit.

The eldest, who answered to the name of Mac, was a cadaverous-faced man, with eyes like a ghoul. "Whar you from?" he asked Wall.

"Wyoming, last," replied Jim, agreeably.

Jeff Bridges, a sturdy, tow-headed man of forty or thereabouts, had a bluff, hearty manner and seemed not to pry under the surface.

"Glad Hank took you on," he said. "We need one cattleman in this outfit an' that's no joke."

Sparrowhawk Latimer, the third of the four, greatly resembled a horse thief Wall had once seen hang.

Hays had said to Slocum, the fourth member of this quartet: "Smoky, you an' Wall shore ought to make a pair to draw to."

"You mean a pair to draw on," retorted the other. He was slight, wiry, freckled of face and hands, with a cast in one of his light, cold-blue eyes.

"Not!" snorted the robber. "Not on! Smoky, do you recollect that gambler Stud Smith, who works the stage towns an' is somethin' of a gun-slinger?"

"I ain't forgot him."

"Wal, we set in a poker game with him one night. I was lucky. Stud took his losin' to heart, an' he shore tried to pick a fight. First he was goin' to draw on me, then shifted to Jim. An' Jim bluffed him out of throwin' a gun."

"How?"

"Jim just said for Stud not to draw, as there wasn't a man livin' who could set a table an' beat him to a gun."

"Most obligin' an' kind of you, Wall," remarked Smoky, with sarcasm, as he looked Jim over with unsatisfied eyes. "If you was so all-fired certain of thet, why'd you tip him off?"

"I never shoot a man just because the chance offers," rejoined Jim, coldly.

There was a subtle intimation in this, probably not lost upon Slocum. The greatest of gunmen were quiet soft-spoken, sober individuals who never sought quarrels. Jim knew that his reply would make an enemy, even if Slocum were not instinctively one on sight. Respect could be felt by men like Slocum. Like a weasel he sniffed around Jim.

"You don't, eh?" he queried. "Wal, you strike me unfavorable."

"Thanks for being honest. If not complimentary," returned Jim. Hays swore at his lieutenant.

"Unfavorable, huh? Now why do you have to pop up with a dislike for him?"

"I didn't say it was dislike. Just unfavorable. No offense meant."

"Smoky," said Hays, "I won't have no grudges in this outfit. I've got the biggest deal on I ever workt among us. But Smoky hobbin' up again my new man—that's serious. Now let's lay the cards on the table."

"Jim, do you want to declare yourself?"

"I'm willing to answer questions—unless they get nasty," replied

Jim, frankly.

"You got run out of Wyoming?"

"No. But if I'd stayed on I'd probably stretched hemp."

"Hold up a stage or somebody?"

"No. Once I helped hold up a bank. That was years ago."

"Bank robber! You're out of our class, Jim."

"Hardly that. It was my first and only crack at a bank. Two of us got away. Then we held up a train—blew open the safe in the express car."

"Smoky, I call it square of Wall," spoke up Hays. "He shore didn't need to come clean as thet."

"It's all right," agreed Slocum, as if forced to fair judgment.

Hays plumped off the porch rail. "Now, fellers, we can get to work. Herick puts a lot of things up to me, an' I ain't no cattleman, Jim, do you know the cattle game?"

"From A to Z," smiled Wall. "Say, but I'm in luck. We'll run the ranch now."

"What'll I do, Hank?" asked Jim. "Wal, you look the whole diggin's over."

Jim lost no time in complying with his first order, from the superintendant of Star Ranch. What a monstrous and incredible hoax was being perpetrated upon some foreigner!

Evidently there had been ranchers here in this valley before Herick. Old log cabins and corrals adjoining the new ones attested to this.

Jim passed cowboys with only a word or a nod. He talked with an old man who said he had owned a homestead across the valley, one of those Herick had gathered in.

Jim gleaned information from this rancher. Herick had bought out all the cattlemen in the valley, and on round the foothill line to Lime-stone Springs, where the big X Bar outfit began. Riders for these small ranches had gone to work for Herick. He was told, that Heeseman, with ten men, was out on the range.

Presently Jim encountered Hays, accompanied by a tall, floridly blond man, garbed as no Westerner had ever been. This, of course, must be the Englishman. He was young, hardly over thirty, and handsome in a fleshy way.

"Mr. Herick, this is my new hand I was tellin' you about," announced Hays, glibly. "Jim Wall, late of Wyoming. Jim, meet the boss."

"How do you do, Mr. Wall," returned Herick. "I understand you have had wide experience on ranches?"

"Yes, sir. I've been riding the range since I was a boy," replied Jim.

"Hays has suggested making you his foreman."

"That is satisfactory to me."

"You are better educated than these other men. It will be part of your duties to keep my books."

"I've tackled that job before."

"So I was tellin' the boss," interposed Hays.

"As I understand ranching," went on Herick, "a foreman handles the riders. Now as the ranching game is strange to me I'm glad to have a foreman of experience. My idea was to hire some gunnen along with the cowboys. Hays' name was given me at rand Junction as the hardest nut in eastern Utah. It got noised about. I presume, for other men with reputations calculated to intimidate thieves applied to me. I took on Heeseman and his friends."

"But you really did not need to go to the expense—and risk, I might add—of hiring Heeseman's outfit."

"Expense is no object, Risk, how-ever—what do you mean by risk?"

"Between ourselves, I strongly suspect that Heeseman is a rust-ler."

"By Jove! You don't say? This is ripping. Heeseman said the identical thing about Hays."

"Wal, Mr. Herick, don't you worry none," interposed Hays, suavely. "Shore I don't take kind to what Heeseman called me to your face, but I can overlook it for the present. You see, if Heeseman is workin' for home he can't rustle as many cattle as if he wasn't. Anythin' come of that deal you had on with thet Grand Junction outfit?"

"Yes I received their reply the other day," rejoined Herick. "By Jove, that reminds me. I had word from my sister, Helen. It came from St. Louis. She is coming through Denver and will arrive at Grand Junction about the fifteenth."

"Young girl—if I may ask?" added Jim.

"Young woman. Helen is twenty-two."

"Comin' for a little visit?" asked Hays.

"By Jove, it bids fair to be a life-long one," declared Herick, as if pleased. "She wants to make Star Ranch her home. We are devoted to each other. If she can stick it out in this bush I'll be jolly glad. Can you drive from Grand Junction in one day?"

"Shore. Easy with a buckboard an' a good team," replied Hays.

Herick resumed his walk with Hays, leaving Jim to his own devices.

Jim strolled around the corrals, the sheds, down the lane between the pastures, out to the open range. This Englishman's sister—this Helen Herick—she would be coming to a remote, wild and beautiful valley. What would the girl be like? Twenty-two years old, strong, a horse-woman, and handsome—very likely blond, as was her brother! And Jim made a mental calculation of the ruffians in Herick's employ. Eighteen!

DRIVERS PAY $195 IN TRAFFIC FINES

Speeders and reckless drivers paid the city a total of $195 in fines levied on them in Judge J. G. Mitchell's police court Wednesday. A total of six appeared, two of whom escaped penalty.

The case of Gordon Richmond, charged with speeding, was dismissed in furtherance of justice and LeRoy Gerner, alleged speeder, was transferred to the juvenile court.

On a plea of guilty Paul R. Tackett of Pomona, was fined $150 on a charge of reckless driving. N. I. Turnnole, of Anaheim, was fined $25 on a speeding charge, and other speeders, J. H. McCarthy, of 1405 North Flower street, and Calvin A. Emery, of Los Angeles, were fined $10 each.

Charged with overtime parking, H. C. Williams and Gus Stumpf were fined $1 in police court yesterday and Emerson Burgess was fined $2 for cutting a corner.

L. A. Man Held On Support Charge

Wanted here on a charge of non-support, K. W. McMillan, of Los Angeles, was arrested by Los Angeles police Wednesday and returned to the county jail that night by Deputy Sheriffs Humiston and McKelvey.

Today in Justice Kenneth Morrison's court, where he was arraigned, his hearing was set for June 9, at 9 a. m.

NOTICE INVITING BIDS

Santa Ana, California, May 26th, 1931.

In pursuance of an order of the Board of Supervisors of the County of Orange, California, passed May 26th, 1931, directing this notice, notice is hereby given that the said Board will receive at its office at the Court House at Santa Ana, California, before the hour of 11:00 A. M. of June 16th, 1931, sealed bids or proposals for furnishing and installing of a Steel Shell for Vault and a Steel Vault Door with combination and time lock for the County Treasurer's Office as per plans and specifications on file at the County Purchasing Agent's Office.

The bidder must submit with his proposal a certified check or a bidder's bond for an amount not less than five percent of the aggregate sum of the bid, as a guarantee that the bidder will enter into the proposed contract if the same is awarded to him and in event of failure to enter into such contract, said check or bond shall become the property of the County of Orange.

The successful bidder will also be required to furnish a certificate that he carries compensation insurance covering his employees upon the work to be done under contract which may be entered into between him and the said County for the construction of said work.

The Board of Supervisors reserves the right to reject any and all bids. By order of the Board of Supervisors of the County of Orange, State of California.

J. M. BACKS, County Clerk and ex-officio Clerk of the Board of Supervisors.

S. H. Underwood, Attorney for Administrator.

ELLEN L. CUSTARD, Administrator.

NEWPORT BEACH, June 5.—

Two boys, brothers, residing in Pomona, were picked up by the police yesterday and later turned over to their father, who came from Pomona and took them back.

The boys told the police at Newport that they had started out "on their own." They were going to be fishermen. Claimed they had jobs catching fish by the day at so much per day. They had $11.40 between them which they claimed they earned as fishermen as they left the money with a cafe owner to keep for them. The cafe owner, regarding general nuisance was difficult and that a study of ordinances which had passed court tests or had been in successful use was being made by him. The city budget was given a brief discussion.

Councilman M. B. McMillan, on the number of red ink entries, indicating deficits.

Willis H. Warner Named Member of H. B. School Board

HUNTINGTON BEACH, June 5.

Willis H. Warner, hardware dealer, has been elected a member of the Huntington Beach union high school board of education, succeeding Joseph Vavra, president of the board, who passed away recently.

Warner was born and raised in Orange county and has a wide acquaintance in this city and at Wintersburg and Westminster, where he was in the lumber business prior to engaging in the hardware business in this city.

Beach Street work before city council.

LAGUNA BEACH, June 5.—

Though the ordinance of intention for the improvement of streets on the cliffs was not ready for action by the council matters concerning streets came before the board Wednesday.

John Arscott asked when it was likely that Ocean avenue would be finished wanted to know when the contract is supposed to be finished, and complained that there was but one to three men employed on the job.

One of the subcontractors, he asserted, left the job to take a private job, and did not work regularly. He expressed fear that the job would not be finished by July 4.

He also asserted that there was no interest shown by the city engineer in having the job finished on time and that he was not being removed as the contractor.

He asked that the contractor be removed. He asked that the contractor be removed. He asked that the contractor be removed.

Howard G. Heisler inquired whether the council would permit vacating of the short street connecting Cliff drive with Broadway just east of the intersection of Beach street with Broadway and generally considered as an extension of Beach street. Because of being steep he considered it dangerous and said it did not serve a great many persons as Cliff drive intersects Broadway about 180 feet further. He offered to vacate lot which would greatly increase the turning space at this latter intersection.

Paul Thompson, residing on the cliffs, and John Neal of the same locality, thought the short connecting street of much value and that it should not be abandoned.

A request was formally made to the Laguna Beach County Water district for certain blueprints showing locations of pipelines. The bath house was given a permit to hold a bathing suit parade on the board walk on the day of the endurance swim races, June 21. Employment of a relief man for G. R. Switzer was authorized in order to permit Mr. Switzer to make collection for garbage service. Councilman Clapp, an ordinance authorizing county officials to levy and collect city taxes for Laguna Beach was given first and second readings. City Attorney Harvey reported that drafting of ordinance regarding general nuisance was difficult and that a study of ordinances which had passed court tests or had been in successful use was being made by him. The city budget was given a brief discussion.

Councilman M. B. McMillan, on the number of red ink entries, indicating deficits.

PUPILS' WORK EXHIBITED IN GRADE SCHOOLS

ANAHEIM, June 5.—Hundreds of parents flocking to Anaheim elementary schools to view the annual school exhibits. While the exhibits in the schools are open all week, special days have been designated for each school.

Today was set aside for the regular exhibit of school work of pupils of the Fremont Intermediate school. The work is not of a special nature but is regulation classroom work, brought together in such a way that the parents can see the entire year's work at a glance. Wilbert Bonney, principal of the school, declared.

A program of demonstrations of cooking and sewing will be presented tonight under the direction of Miss Fletcher and Alvin Heinmiller. A fashion show, which has drawn large numbers of interested parents in the past, will be presented. Work of the various departments will be on display in the classrooms.

Yesterday the Broadway and Clifton schools presented their respective exhibits to the public, hundreds of parents being in attendance.

Wednesday the La Palma school presented a special program. A feature of the program was "The Courtship of Miles Standish," given in song and pantomime by pupils of the fifth and sixth grades.

The most specialized exhibit of the year was presented at the Central school under the direction of Leo Elliott, principal of the school. Each room was decorated with pictures, flags and articles from some foreign country. Pupils and teachers in the school have been working on the exhibits ever since September. The exhibits are still open to any who care to see them.

An all nation program was presented by the pupils of the school during the afternoon. Those who participated were Jack Baker, Stella Barr, Isabella Dunn, Robert Elliott, Carla Dross, Isadore Gonzales, Betty Jane Ward, Martin Baker, Chieko Shizukawa, Frances Johnson, Herbert Aup, Junior Rietzel, Richard Kendrick, Langdon Hilleary, Clifford Kopitzke, Noel Mendoza, Joyce Hays, Bobbie Elliott, Patricia Draper, Gertrude Barker, Dorothy Harker, Jeanne Thatcher, Eunice Franz, Marilyn Gargrove and Lorraine Johnson.

YEAR BOOK OF POLY TECH ON CAMPUS TODAY

Acclaimed as the best and largest high school yearbook ever issued at the Santa Ana High school, the 1931 Ariel made its appearance on the campus Wednesday and students and faculty members today were busy engaged in autographing and reading the annuals.

The book, printed under the editorship of Gene Hall, was dedicated to J. A. Cranston, superintendent of schools for the past 25 years, who is retiring this year. It was neatly printed in black and white color contrast and a new cover design on a black board cover added to its attractiveness. The Ariel also was an inch wider and longer than previous issues. A futuristic art theme was carried throughout and many novel effects were created. Miss Frances Egge supervised this work as art advisor with the help of Evelyn Fairley as art editor, while Miss Elizabeth Wyant again acted as literary advisor. George B. Holmes, head of the commercial department, served as business advisor.

New type faces and printing features were introduced by the Gilbert P. Campbell printing company, which had charge of the printing. The engraving was done by the Santa Ana Engraving company, the photography by the Rabe-Lyle studios, the binding by the Weber-McCrea company of Los Angeles and the inserts by the high school print shop under the direction of Thomas E. Williams.

The Ariel contains 140 pages and is divided into six sections. The introductory section contains the foreword, dedication, salutatory, pictorial, board of control, self-government committee and faculty. Section two is devoted to classes. The next division is arts and music. Activities are featured in the next part, including the "Ariel" staff, the "Generator" staff, the "Owl Speaks" staff and organizations, forensics and calendar.

Section five is boys' and girls' sports while the concluding part is snaps and humor. There are no advertisements in the book. The staff which issued the book consisted of Gene Hall, editor-in-chief; Dick Pinkerton and Ruth Jenkins, associate editors; Paul Wood, business manager; Evelyn Fairley, art editor; Kenneth Kinney, makeup editor; Margaret Fine, music; Kenneth Beard, drama; Celestia Straub, literature; Thelma Johnston, activities; Bill Gibbs, men's athletics; Hazel Spencer, girls' athletics; William Markwalder, society; Bill Kistinger, alumni; William Blanchard, seniors; Betty Vorce, snaps; Duncan Harolds, humor; Minor Warner, assistant business manager; and Edna Kohler and Bernice Walker, typists.

WESTMINSTER

WINTERSBURG, June 5.—Arrangements for the opening of the summer Bible school at Wintersburg. The first class will be held next Monday morning at 9 o'clock, to continue each morning for the same hour until 11:30 or 12:00 for the coming two weeks.

The Misses Marjorie Cowling, Zekie Nichols and Ruth Friend will be in charge of the beginners' classes; Mrs. Sherman Buck and Mrs. Harry Letson, primary classes, Mr. and Mrs. W. A. Matson, Mrs. E. M. Fox and Mrs. W. F. Slater, junior and intermediate departments. Miss Thelma Pratt has been assigned as pianist for the school period.

The regular monthly meeting of the Missionary society of the Methodist church is being held next Tuesday afternoon at the home of Mrs. E. Ray Moore, who will give a tea in connection with the business meeting and the program, the latter of which will be in charge of Mrs. Raymond Beem. The usual Wednesday meeting was abandoned in favor of the Tuesday meeting on account of Wednesday being the date of commencement at the Huntington Beach High school. The Rev. D. D. Dundas, former local pastor, and Mrs. Dundas, of La Habra, have been invited to speak at the missionary meeting.

Mr. and Mrs. D. P. Robertson, of Boulevard Gardens, were the surprise honorees at a shower given at their home one evening by a group of their friends from the Huntington Beach Baptist church. Those of this place included Mr. and Mrs. F. M. Baldwin, Mr. and Mrs. Wm. Preston and daughters, Mrs. Wellington DeLaverne, Virginia DeLaverne, Mrs. W. J. McIntosh, Miss Nellie and Gladstone McIntosh.

Bladder Weakness Clears Right Up Or Money Back

No matter how much you have been tortured by painful urinations, loss of sleep and back-breaking aches caused by bladder or kidney weakness, do not give up. You can secure prompt, grateful relief through Wildunger Tea, or it won't cost you one penny. Wildunger Tea is a simple German herb preparation in which is combined the valuable mineral salts from famous Wildunger Bad. A New York doctor was so impressed with the results obtained by European kidney sufferers that he brought Wildunger Tea to this country. Now it is prescribed by physicians here. Get a big box from your druggist. Use it all according to the plain, simple directions on the package. Unless you are absolutely convinced that you are getting well, return the empty box and get your money back. Wildunger Tea can be had at C. S. Kelly, Druggist, 101 East 4th Street, Santa Ana.

tored in company with friends from Huntington Beach to Beaumont to see the cherry orchards. The Willing Workers' society is meeting next Wednesday with Mrs. Frank Lance as hostess of the occasion. Henry Casey, of Taft, who used to reside here, has been visiting James Talley. Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Huff entertained a group of their relatives as dinner guests. The company included Mr. and Mrs. Fred Gallienne and family, of South Pasadena, Mr. and Mrs. Don Yearney, of Highland Park, and Mr. and Mrs. H. A. Gallienne, of Huntington Beach. Miss Juliette Blaylock spent the week end as a guest at Wilmington. G. W. McIntosh, who has been spending a vacation at San Francisco, has returned home and visited a few days with relatives and friends before going back to his work. Mr. and Mrs. W. J. McIntosh and Mrs. McIntosh's parents, Mr. and Mrs. F. M. Baldwin, were guests Monday evening at an anniversary party at the home of

Mr. and Mrs. Dinsmore at Huntington Beach. Installation of Junior Mooseheart officers was held with Helen Brown, of this place as past president; Mary Helen Treese, vice president; Lois Treese, secretary; Bobbie Hazard, inner guard, Dawn

Treese, guide, and Mrs. Iva Hazard as one of the two musicians chosen. Each of the incoming officers were presented little tokens by the lodge at the installation. Mr. and Mrs. Brown, of the Oceanview Edison substation, have left for the Grand Canyon where they will enjoy a vacation. Mr. and Mrs. John Stinson had as guests for a day a group of friends from Hollywood and took their picnic luncheon to Irvine Park and then motored to the beach for a part of the day.

THE TINYMITES

STORY BY NAL COCHRAN—PICTURES BY KNICK
REG. U. S. PAT. OFF.

Up to the Jap girl Clowney ran and said, "Say, that's a clever plan, to carry your kid brother round upon your back that way. I know that Indians used to do queer things like that, but this is new. I'll bet the little fellow thinks it's just a lot of play." The Travel Man said, "It's too bad, but she can't understand you, lad. She only talks in Japanese. I'll speak to her that way. And then, with quite apparent ease, he rattled off some Japanese. The Jap girl smiled 'cause she knew every single word he'd say. Then Clowney snapped, "Please ask the girl if Clowney, here, can have a whirl at carrying the baby in the clever native style. I'd like to see him try it once. He's always game for brand new stunts." "You bet I am," said Clowney, as he broke into a smile. The Travel Man made the request and shortly Clowney was all dressed with straps across his shoulders, which would hold the baby tight. And then the tot was put in place. A scared look spread upon its face, till Clowney chuckled it 'neath the chin and said, "You'll be all right."

It was a funny sight to see wee Clowney, proud as he could be, asserting with the baby. All the others laughed real loud. No other Tiny wished to try the stunt. They bid the girl good-bye, as Clowney said, "Well, I am glad I've pleased this happy crowd." The Travel Man then took them to another spot, for something new. 'Twas just a great big open field, as far as they could see. Some girls were sitting on the ground, with large containers all around. "This is a tea field," said the Travel Man. "They're picking tea."

(There's another treat for the Tinymites in the next story.)

Missing Letter Links

RULES

1. In playing golf on the Missing Letter Links the object is to change one word to another in a given number of strokes which is par. For example, to go from TEE to PIN in three strokes sounds hard but isn't: TEE-TIE-PIE-PIN. It's probably more difficult on a real course.

2. Change but one letter at a time and be sure the word you have used is one in good usage.

3. The order of the letters cannot be changed.

9 PUPILS OF OLIVE SCHOOL GET DIPLOMAS

OLIVE, June 5.—Nine students received their diplomas at the graduating exercises of the Olive grammar school last night. They were Marjory Bush, Donna Feinster, Lucille McKelvey, Helen Mollica, Harold Schick, Edmund Rodriguez, Ralph Roberts, Roy Triumpler and Jesus Costello. The diplomas were presented by the principal of the school, Professor R. L. Spauld.

Ralph Spauld, secretary of the Santa Ana Y. M. C. A., delivered the principal address; Miss Marjorie Bush, president of the class, gave the salutatory oration and the class will was read by Miss Helen Mollica, vice president of the graduating group. Miss Lucille McKelvey read the class prophecy.

Special music for the occasion was furnished by the club and the mixed chorus of the school.

The annual picnic of the school was held at the Anaheim city park today, officially bringing to a close the school activities of the past year. School patrons and friends with the children left the school at 10 in the morning.

The personnel of next year's faculty was announced by Professor Spauld. Only one change has been made, Mrs. Irene Stewart, of Anaheim, succeeding Alpha Salveson as third and fourth grades; John D. Rosier, fifth and sixth grades; Janey L. VanDerVere, first and second grades; R. L. Spauld seventh and eighth grades.

SCHOOL PUPILS GET DIPLOMAS AT EXERCISES

ORANGE, June 5.—Graduating exercises of the Orange elementary school were held at the high school auditorium last night, a large group of parents and interested friends being present. Dr. Daniel Webster Kutz was the principal speaker, having "Ideals of Education" as his subject.

The Rev. J. C. Donnell, rector of the Trinity Episcopal church, gave the invocation. The Girls' Glee club gave two numbers, "Pipes of Pan" and "Indian Dawn." A flute accompaniment was played by Robert Witt to the first number and a violin accompaniment to the second by Mary Moffat.

Della Shepard gave musical readings, "Chums" and "Lessons With the Fan." Fred Krohn played a piano solo, "Majesty of the Deep."

The Boys' Glee club sang "Bells of the Sea" and "Strumming." Nelson Kogler was the soloist. A violin solo, "Hungarian Dance," was given by Elvia Worden.

Eldene Watson presented two musical readings, "Go Get It" and "Watch the Corners of Your Mouth."

The members of the class were presented by George C. Sherwood, and the diplomas were presented by Mrs. Florence McCoy, teacher of literature of the Intermediate school.

DOG BITES MAN

ANAHEIM, June 5.—L. E. Le Claire, 313 South Lemon, filed a complaint at the police station yesterday stating that a dog had bitten him. Ray Smith, county sanitary inspector, is investigating the matter in an effort to determine whether or not the dog has rabies.

Installation will be held some time after July 1. Coffee and doughnuts were served by a committee headed by Emil Rodieck.

Announcement was made that the first degree team would put on work at Hemet on Monday night. Walter Crane was elected to office for the 44th consecutive time, while John F. Lee has held the office of financial secretary continuously for 25 years. Officers are elected every six months.

INSTALLATION CONDUCTED BY CHURCH GROUP

ORANGE, June 5.—"The Children of India Continue Steadfast" was the subject of the Missionary society of the Christian church yesterday afternoon at 2:30 o'clock in the church parlor.

Mrs. Rebecca Pope presided at the business session, Mrs. Frances Conner reported eight books and 18 World Calls reading the New Testament, making a total of 17 who have completed reading the New Testament this year. A cooked food sale was announced for Saturday, the funds to assist in sending four young people to Italy for the young people's conference. The sale will be held at 9 o'clock in the plaza.

Mrs. D. C. Pixley was the program chairman, taking the place of Mrs. C. L. Robinson who was unable to be present. Mrs. V. D. Johnson led in the devotionals with Mrs. Minnie Neville offering the prayer.

"The Indian Church's Share" was given by Mrs. E. Atherton. "The Indian Church Witnesses in Jerusalem" was given by Mrs. Minnie Neville.

Into the Uttermost Parts of the World" was given by Mrs. William Moore. "Native Young People" was given by Mrs. J. A. Campbell. "Children in India" was given by Mrs. D. C. Pixley.

"Whispering Hope" was rendered by Dorothy Finley and Anita Myracle, accompanied by Mrs. Neleta Wolke. Mrs. Minnie Neville spoke of the need in children here at home.

Mrs. D. C. Pixley installed the officers. The officers installed were: president, Mrs. Rebecca Pope; vice president, Mrs. F. L. Alsworth; secretary, Mrs. E. Bivens; treasurer, Mrs. R. C. Burkett; treasurer, Mrs. Margaret Moore; World Call secretary, Mrs. Frances Conner; press chairman, Mrs. Anna Todd. Silent prayer was offered for Mrs. Eva Eekles, a member of this section of the missionary society, who passed away this year.

Refreshments of Russian tea and cookies were served at the social hour by Mrs. D. C. Pixley and Mrs. J. A. Campbell.

Prison Conditions Outlined In Talk For Rotary Club

ORANGE, June 5.—The Rev. A. J. Soidan was the speaker at the meeting of the Rotary club yesterday. The Rev. Mr. Soidan formerly was chaplain of Leavenworth federal prison and is an ex-service man. At present he is pastor of the Santa Monica Lutheran church.

The speaker was introduced by Dr. J. P. Crawford, president of the club, and he took as his subject that of work to be done in prisons. The pastor declared that after men are put in prison, they are forgotten and that while they are well cared for physically their mental condition is terrible.

He urged greater consideration for first offenders and said that they should not be kept with older and more hardened criminals.

Sallie Lee Seales, accompanied by Mrs. Jess Coe sang several solos. Nels Edwards was appointed program chairman for the next meeting.

ORANGE PERSONALS

ORANGE, June 5.—Notices of intention were filed at the city clerk's office at Santa Ana yesterday by Steven L. Bradley, 23, 463 North Olive street, this city, and Eloise M. Schartz of Fullerton, and Vernon Clair Robinson, 30, 208 East Chapman street, to Dorothy Lee Price, 19, 1316 North Baker street, Santa Ana.

Extra Hollister, recently graduated from Occidental college, has left for New York City on the first stage of a journey to China where he will be engaged as a missionary teacher for the coming three years. He will sail from New York in August and on his arrival in that city will attend a missionary conference. He will be accompanied east by his mother, Mrs. C. W. Hollister.

Members of the Klotim club met this week with Mrs. Theo. Starkey.

ELECTION HELD BY METHODIST CHURCH GROUP

ORANGE, June 5.—Officers were elected at the meeting of the Woman's Foreign Missionary society of the Methodist church at the home of Mrs. William Kolikhorst on East Walnut street, yesterday.

Mrs. C. C. Hotchkiss presided at the business session, Mrs. J. H. Worrall led in the devotionals. The nominating committee, Mrs. D. E. Claypool, Mrs. Bertha Adams and Mrs. C. C. Bennett, made the following report: President, Mrs. C. C. Hotchkiss; vice president, Mrs. J. E. Parks; recording secretary, Mrs. D. E. Claypool; corresponding secretary, Mrs. C. D. Hutchins; treasurer, Mrs. Lula Kenyon; extension secretary, Mrs. George Campbell; miss box chairman, Mrs. H. Z. Sawyer; stewardship, Mrs. J. H. Worrall; standard bearer, counselors, Mrs. Hester Robinson and Miss Clara Worrall; king's herald, Mrs. Mary Gross; light bearers, Mrs. Wesley Kolikhorst. The report was accepted and the officers were elected.

Mrs. J. E. Parks presented bouquets to Mrs. C. C. Hotchkiss, Miss Lula Kenyon, Mrs. D. E. Claypool and Mrs. Dilley.

"Homing" was sung by Miss Helen Gillogly. She responded with an encore, "Smiling Through."

Mrs. William Hall reviewed the study book on the chapter, "Welfare work in the Orient."

"The Treasureship of Value" was presented by Mrs. Mary Gross. Mrs. George Campbell and Mrs. D. E. Claypool, Orangeade and home made cookies were served by the hostess.

on North Batavia street, with the hostess serving the luncheon and the day was spent in quilting. Mrs. C. W. Pulley of Lancaster, formerly a member of the club, was a guest. Members present were Mesdames C. A. McGill, R. E. Ralls, B. M. Huff, Eda Windolph, and the hostess.

A wiener bake was enjoyed at the Pailades last evening by Mr. and Mrs. H. J. Hinricks and family, Mr. and Mrs. Albert Struck and family, and the Rev. A. G. Webbeking.

Mr. and Mrs. J. F. Keller of 815 East Chapman street have sold their home to Earl Crawford, taking his Olive property in exchange and selling the Olive property to Charles Maag. The Kellers have lived in Orange for 24 years and are moving to Alhambra to be near their daughter, Mrs. Howard Whitney.

Social Held By Olive Aid Group

ORANGE, June 5.—The Ladies' Aid society of St. Paul's Lutheran church was entertained for its regular meeting at the social hall Thursday afternoon by Mrs. August Lemke and Mrs. Herman Lemke. Several bouquets of roses graced the tables and the stage. Mrs. Robert Paulus served as secretary in the absence of Mrs. George Boehmer. The Aid resolved to continue the custom of cancelling meetings during the months of July and August.

Other members present were Mesdames Fred Guenther, Henry Reimann, Emilie Breile, Herman Melchoff, H. O. Luchau, O. Burdge, Art Pashall, Walter Timme, Walter Timken, Walter Krage, Carl Gollin, C. O. Helm and E. Zingier.

BUENA PARK BLOCK BEING REMODELLED

BUENA PARK, June 5.—The Warren building at Grand and Ninth streets is being remodelled and the partition taken out between the bakery and a former meat market for an up-to-date firm occupying the building, a grocery store, bakery, meat market and vegetable and fruit market. C. H. Moriarty, who has been in the grocery business in Buena Park for the past seven years, will head the concern and the Home bakery will remain in the present quarters. Announcement has not been made of the management of the meat market and vegetable market.

The new owners of the Ford garage, Hugh E. Buell and Duke Gaughan, of Long Beach, have assumed charge this week and the former owner, H. C. Armstrong, will move to Long Beach. Mr. Gaughan has moved his family here and they are living in the house at the rear of the garage on Whitaker avenue. Mr. Buell will locate here in the near future.

A display of aerial fireworks will be given by the post July 7 at 8:45 p. m. The display is to last two and a half hours.

A report was given that Larry Mollica was doing well at the Army and Navy hospital at San Diego. Franklin Grouard, of Santa Ana, was a guest. Mrs. George Franzen, president of the Legion auxiliary, asked for volunteer waiters for the Legion dinner Monday evening.

H. O. Wallace, Henry Appel and E. C. Frevert served a Dutch-lunch at the close of the meeting. Harvey Riggle, commander, was in charge of the meeting.

2 BICYCLES STOLEN

ORANGE, June 5.—Two bicycles were reported stolen yesterday. One, the property of Harold Smith, 140 West Palm street, was taken from the Orange theater and the other, belonging to Albert Clark, West La Veta street, was taken from a local school.

Armour Captures British Open

AMERICAN PRO BEATS JURADO BY ONE STROKE

BY VIRGIL PINKLEY

(United Press Staff Correspondent) CARNOSTIE, Scotland, June 5.—(UP)—Tommy Armour of Detroit won the British Open golf championship today, with an aggregate score of 296. He scored a par breaking 71 in his final round.

Thus the British Open title remained in the United States, where it has been ever since 1922 when A. G. Havers, a Briton, won the championship.

Jurado won second money by virtue of his 77 for the final round which gave him an aggregate of 297.

Next came Percy Alliss, Berlin, and Gene Sarazen, New York, with aggregates of 298. Mac Smith and Johnny Farrell, both of New York, followed with 299 each, and next came Marco Churrio, Argentina, and W. H. Davies, England, with 300.

Hunter Close Behind
Willie Hunter, Los Angeles, Joe Kirkwood, New York, and Horton Smith, New York, were a short distance back of the leaders. Hunter finished with 307, a 79 on his final round being his only weak spot. Smith, first of the stars to finish, scored a par 72, his only good round of the championship. He had an aggregate of 302.

Kirkwood slipped in his last round, scoring an 81 for an aggregate of 305.

Armour was one of the early finishers. His score withstood the assault of Jurado and Mac Smith, each of whom faltered on his final nine holes.

Jurado had the title within easy grasp, but exceeded par considerably on the last nine.

Armour had seriously endangered his chances for winning the title with a 77 in his third round this morning. That left him with an aggregate of 295, five strokes behind Jurado, and two strokes behind Mac Smith.

His 71 for the afternoon round equalled the course record set by Smith.

Former U. S. Champion
Armour is a former U. S. Open champion. He won the title in 1927 in a play-off with Harry Cooper. He also won the coveted P. G. A. championship of 1929 at Flushing N. Y.

He is a war veteran, and was wounded several times. One arm was nearly paralyzed by his wounds. He lost one eye while fighting as a member of the tank corps.

Armour experienced all the agony that usually befalls an early finishing low score. After his final round was complete he learned how Mac Smith had gone out in 35 to have the leading Jurado, when went out in 36.

Virtually all of the crowds gathered at Carnoustie where a half holiday had been declared by the trades people, formed a gallery which watched the downfall of the Argentine. Included in the gallery was the Prince of Wales, who smoked a briar pipe and carried a hunting stick.

OPEN $4000 'SHOE' QUARTERS AT BEACH

New quarters of the Huntington Beach Horseshoe club, representing an outlay of approximately $4000, will be formally opened tomorrow.

The court is located near the corner of Sixth and Magnolia streets and is operated by a club of some 30 members of which E. C. Wright is president-manager and W. A. Day secretary.

The afternoon program includes horseshoe games between Santa Ana and the U. P. club of Long Beach, and Tustin and Huntington Beach, as well as some exhibition pitching. The evening program calls for music by the L. E. Worley quartet and Prof. Sun's big band, introduction of club trustees by President Wright and a horseshoe contest between the two winning teams of the afternoon.

BY GEORGE KIRKSEY

(United Press Staff Correspondent) CHICAGO, June 5.—(UP)—Dominating the field of 334 picked stars entered from 75 colleges from coast to coast, Southern California's track and field team was an overwhelming favorite to put the finishing touches on the greatest two-year record in history in the National Collegiate Athletic association meet today and tomorrow at Stagg field.

The withdrawal of all but one member of the Stanford team virtually has clinched the title for the Trojans. Southern California won last year's meet with 55 27-70 points and if all the members of the team perform up to expectations the Trojans will set a new high point total, eclipsing the present score of 72 points made by Stanford in 1928.

Since victory for Southern California is practically a foregone conclusion, it will be the first time since the N. C. A. A. meet was established in 1921 that any school has been able to win the title two years in succession.

Trials in 11 of the 15 events began at 3 p. m., central standard time. Preliminaries were carried on in the hurdle races, the 100, 220, 440 and 880 and in all the field events except the pole vault and high jump.

Mrs. Shields Is Class A Winner At Country Club

Mrs. Hugh Shields, Mrs. O'Dn Andrews and Miss Lu Pomeroy won Class A, B and C medal play sweepstakes for women at the Santa Ana Country club yesterday.

Mrs. Shields carded 94-10-75 in the "A" division to nose out Mrs. W. W. Foote, 98-21-77, and Mrs. Mabel Drumm, 101-24-77.

Mrs. Andrews had 106-31-75. Other "B" winners were Mrs. W. F. Kistinger, 110-34-76, and Mrs. Dorra Roper, 105-27-78.

Miss Pomeroy's 125-60-75 in Class C was followed by Mrs. C. J. Cogan, 140-55-85; Mrs. L. W. Blodgett, 155-68-87; Mrs. Foster Lamm, 142-55-87, and Miss Dorothy Diehl, 128-41-87.

Miss Pomeroy also won President A. G. Flag's Class C prize with a 54-hole net of 180. Mrs. Cogan was second.

The Whittier-Garden Grove game at Garden Grove shares the spotlight with the Santa Ana-Huntington Beach tussle here in tonight's National Night league baseball schedule.

Tied with Huntington Beach for third place, beaten only four times, Whittier still has an outside chance to win the first half championship but must be at its best to turn back the pesky Peppers in their current form. Mearl Youel has given the Garden Grove outfit some dandy pitching and is almost an even bet to definitely remove Whittier as a contender.

None of the other games this evening figure to have a bearing on the race. Anaheim, Santa Ana's chief rival, draws a soft spot at Fullerton. Westminster goes to Long Beach. North Long Beach meets Olive.

The standings:
NATIONAL NIGHT LEAGUE
Santa Ana 12 1 923
Anaheim 10 3 769
Huntington Beach 9 4 692
Whittier 9 4 692
Olive 8 5 615
Garden Grove 6 7 462
Long Beach 3 10 231
Westminster 3 10 231

PACIFIC COAST CONFERENCE IN PORTLAND MEET

PORTLAND, Ore., June 5.—(UP)—The presence of "Navy Bill" Ingram of California and Glenn "Pop" Warner of Stanford gave a decided football aspect to the Pacific Coast Intercollegiate conference meeting here today and Saturday.

Neither would talk to the point when football prospects were mentioned, but contented themselves with arranging baseball, basketball and other schedules.

Northern division conference members arranged track, baseball, golf and tennis schedules for track meet to be held next year at Seattle, May 5-7. The Northern division golf playoff will be at Seattle, May 5, 6, 7, while the tennis playoff will be at Eugene, May 6, 7.

Earl Foster, Washington State college, and Carl Lodell, Oregon State college, were named by President Earl Campbell to arrange tentative four-year schedules in baseball and George Horton, Idaho, to draw a similar schedule in track. Basketball schedules will be completed today and the playoff date set for Northern and Southern division winners.

Frank Liebzelt, a newcomer, will be at first base with Tommy Young at second, Jack Elliott short and Johnny Goshert third. Keny Felcock, Odle Maness and "Speed" Landreth comprise the Outer outfield. Liebzelt, Maness and Landreth are all long distance hitters, and are the best in the league.

"Jumpy" Joe Cornelius, ace of Santa Ana's mound corps, was reported under the weather with a severe cold today and it was extremely doubtful whether he would work against the invaders. Manager Lackaye has two other fine pitchers available, however, in "Joe-Joe" the Tiger Ochoa and Earl Morrill. Ochoa probably will win the assignment.

Otherwise, Santa Ana probably will employ the same lineup it sent against Long Beach Tuesday, Darwin Scott being stationed at third base and Leavitt Daley third. The Stars also will hit in the new order, "Mmehmy" Hill acting as leadoff, followed by Morrill, L. Daley, Nelson, Bell, E. Daley, Scott, Wilcox and the pitcher.

The Stars have four more league games this half after tonight. North Long Beach comes here Tuesday and Fullerton Friday. The following week the team travels to Westminster Tuesday, meets Olive here Friday.

A subscriber in Stanton, who is kind enough to state he enjoys this department, writes that we are overlooking a better record in our enthusiasm for the nine letters won by Alvin Reboin here in three years and the prospect that "Toy" Blower may win ten before he is through high school.

Our attention is called to the fact that Stan Riley, Anaheim high school athlete graduating this month, has won THIRTEEN letters in four years, ELEVEN in three. He has never missed a game during that period.

Riley's record is indeed a marvelous one. May we hope our Stanton friend whispers perfumed words about Santa Ana junior college in Riley's Irish ears?

OILERS INVADE BOWL TONIGHT: RACE NEAR END

The solemn responsibility of protecting their leadership against a team that has won six straight games sends Santa Ana's Stars into one of the most important conflicts of the National Night Baseball league season here this evening.

Encouraged by a run of victories over almost every city in the circuit, a drive that has hoisted them from the second division into a tie for third place and only three games from the top, Huntington Beach shapes up as the keenest competition George Lackaye's champions will encounter from now until the first half of the split schedule is completed two weeks from tonight.

Victory for Santa Ana keeps the Stars two full games ahead of Anaheim. Defeat hauls the champions down a full peg and gives Huntington Beach and Whittier, as well as Anaheim, an outside opportunity to sneak to the wire first.

Some think Huntington Beach should be the favorite.

Morning Pitching Well
Howard Morning, the Spudders' southpaw, usually gives Santa Ana lots of trouble. The lefty was with a careless last summer but with a good club behind him this summer he has been bending 'em across like he did several years ago when the Long Beach Aconors were at the top of their stride. With six successive victims back of them, his mates have acquired the winning spirit. They come to the Bowl with new born confidence.

Huntington Beach started slowly, played only 500 ball for several weeks but has been coming like wildfire ever since the 5-3 decision it dropped in 10 innings to Anaheim May 8. The Oilers' season record follows:

Huntington Beach 5, Olive 6.
Huntington Beach 13, Fullerton 2.
Huntington Beach 3, Westminster 5.
Huntington Beach 2, Santa Ana 9.
Huntington Beach 3, Anaheim 5.
(10 innings.)
Huntington Beach 5, North Long Beach 7 (11 innings.)
Huntington Beach 2, Garden Grove 4.
Huntington Beach 6, Long Beach 3.
Huntington Beach 4, Whittier 3.
Huntington Beach 6, Olive 6.
Huntington Beach 15, North Long Beach 4.
Huntington Beach 23, Fullerton 4.
Huntington Beach 7, Westminster 2.

Bill Bushman, who caught his brother Al at Anaheim until this season, will be Morning's battery-mate here. A change of pasture has made Bushman one of the best backstops in night ball. The big fellow has been tapping all kinds of pitching and playing an inspired defensive game too.

Long Distance Hitters
Frank Liebzelt, a newcomer, will be at first base with Tommy Young at second, Jack Elliott short and Johnny Goshert third. Keny Felcock, Odle Maness and "Speed" Landreth comprise the Outer outfield. Liebzelt, Maness and Landreth are all long distance hitters, and are the best in the league.

"Jumpy" Joe Cornelius, ace of Santa Ana's mound corps, was reported under the weather with a severe cold today and it was extremely doubtful whether he would work against the invaders. Manager Lackaye has two other fine pitchers available, however, in "Joe-Joe" the Tiger Ochoa and Earl Morrill. Ochoa probably will win the assignment.

Otherwise, Santa Ana probably will employ the same lineup it sent against Long Beach Tuesday, Darwin Scott being stationed at third base and Leavitt Daley third. The Stars also will hit in the new order, "Mmehmy" Hill acting as leadoff, followed by Morrill, L. Daley, Nelson, Bell, E. Daley, Scott, Wilcox and the pitcher.

The Stars have four more league games this half after tonight. North Long Beach comes here Tuesday and Fullerton Friday. The following week the team travels to Westminster Tuesday, meets Olive here Friday.

A subscriber in Stanton, who is kind enough to state he enjoys this department, writes that we are overlooking a better record in our enthusiasm for the nine letters won by Alvin Reboin here in three years and the prospect that "Toy" Blower may win ten before he is through high school.

Our attention is called to the fact that Stan Riley, Anaheim high school athlete graduating this month, has won THIRTEEN letters in four years, ELEVEN in three. He has never missed a game during that period.

Riley's record is indeed a marvelous one. May we hope our Stanton friend whispers perfumed words about Santa Ana junior college in Riley's Irish ears?

CARDS, GIANTS AND
CUBS IN FLAG RACE

NEW YORK, June 5.—(UP)—The mad scramble for the National league leadership narrowed down to three teams today with the likelihood that St. Louis, New York and Chicago would continue to battle it out the entire season.

The pace-setting Cardinals are two games and a half ahead of the Giants while the Cubs in third place are three and one-half games from the top. The other five teams, headed by Boston and Brooklyn, are seven games or more from first place and it is unlikely that any of them will challenge the present leaders.

DUNDEE WINS POOR
MATCH WITH JEBY

NEW YORK, June 5.—If, as claimed, Vince Dundee of Baltimore, and Ben Juby of New York, are the outstanding contenders for the middleweight boxing championship of the world, Champion Mickey Walker has few worries other than weight-making ability and old age.

Dundee and Juby struggled through 10 rounds last night in the feature bout of a Madison Square Garden program with Dundee winning a close decision. Neither fighter showed anything to warrant classification as a dangerous opponent for Walker.

Carpenter Elected
Fullerton Captain

FULLERTON, June 5.—Archie Carpenter, prominent Fullerton junior college athlete, will captain the 1932 Hornet baseball team.

In addition to playing first base on the diamond, Carpenter, is outstanding in football and basketball. He is at present a member of the Fullerton night ball team and one of the best first basemen in the lunar league.

Carpenter was a member of the Hornet team which placed second in the conference and is one of the ten returning lettermen to return for next year's squad.

Shrine Golf Play
Won by Stribling

CLEVELAND, O., June 5.—(UP)—W. L. ("Young") Stribling, Georgia, challenger to world heavyweight supremacy, got a punch out of golf today after winning his first prize on the fairways.

Stribling's net score of 69 for the return flight in the Al Koran Shrine tournament here was low among 135 contestants. The challenger, who took up golf to train for his match with Max Schmeling July 3, scored a birdie three on the 17th, a 315-yard hole.

GLORY DENIED HORTON
Horton Smith, 23-year-old Joplin Mo., boy, who stroked his way to fame and fortune on the golf links, has never won a major title, although he has won practically every other important event on the golf calendar.

Hurdler Welsh To
Wed Visalia Girl

VISALIA, June 5.—Jeddy Welsh, famed Los Angeles Athletic club and U. S. C. hurdler and a candidate for Olympic tryouts, will be married early in the autumn.

At a party here last night the engagement of Miss Velma Keener, daughter of a Visalia musician, and Welsh was announced. Welsh, who lives in Pasadena, is a University of Southern California student.

"Red" Grange might have been a Frank Wyckoff or a Les Sentman if it hadn't been for Zuppke. . . . According to Jim McMillen, running mate of "Red" back in 1922-24 and now tackling the pachyderms on the Curley circuit, "Grange won an intramural track meet for the Zeta Psi boys, and all by himself. . . . He scored more points than any one team. . . . He won six firsts, scoring 30 points, capturing the 70 and 100-yard dashes, the high and low hurdles and the high and broad jump. . . . 'Red' was a great high jumper. . . . Big Earl Bettison used to throw his passes high to Grange and the Redhead would catch them where nobody else could touch them. . . . We beat Iowa 9 to 6 one year on just such tactics."

Officers will be installed at a women's night program to be held June 24 in the Woman's Civic clubhouse.

It was decided to set aside $50 for the local high school education fund.

OFFICERS NAMED BY GARDEN GROVE CLUB

GARDEN GROVE, June 5.—Election of officers for the year was held at the Lions club luncheon Wednesday. Those elected are as follows: President, E. A. Wakeham; first vice president, Dick Haster; second vice president, Charles Shotwell; secretary, Dr. Irving Baldwin; treasurer, Walt Wentz; directors, Leroy Dolg and W. B. Merchant; tall twister, D. S. Jordan; lion tamer, W. O. Broady; official objector, "Dad" Pearson.

ENTERTAINS SECTION
BREA, June 5.—Mrs. L. A. Sayles entertained the members of the art section at her home on South Madrona yesterday, serving a 12 o'clock luncheon. Covers were laid for the hostess and for Mesdames L. A. Hogue, C. C. Crookshank, Frank Shock, E. E. Anderson, E. E. Curtis, W. E. Fanning, John F. Cox, Joe Negley, members, and for Mrs. Leah Middleton, of Long Beach, a sister of Mrs. Curtis.

The afternoon hours were spent in making lovely table favors for the closing club luncheon next Tuesday. The next meeting of the section will be held at the ranch home of Mrs. Hogue's mother, Mrs. A. C. Peck, on Placencia avenue, near Placencia.

BUSINESS FACTS
FOR BREA C. OF C.

BREA, June 5.—A. V. Van Tuyle, in charge of the program for the chamber of commerce Wednesday, presented H. L. Parry, secretary of the Mutual Building and Loan company, Fullerton. Parry spoke on general business conditions and explained something of the new building and loan law which will become effective in August.

Parry declared that conditions in California are much better than those of the east and middle west and that the unemployment situation at Brea has been greatly relieved by some of the surrounding growers and packing houses using only Americans in their crews.

President LeGro opened the discussion of the chamber taking a vacation during the summer months and later it was decided that the meeting of next Wednesday will be the last to be held until September 9.

J. R. Newman, manager of the Patten-Davis Lumber company, will have charge of the program for next week. Guests introduced were William MacClatchie, son of Mr. and Mrs. H. A. MacClatchie, and Harold Young, principal of the Beaumont High school, introduced by C. O. Harvey.

CENTRALIA HOLDS
EXERCISES JUNE 8

HARDING, June 5.—The Centralia eighth grade graduation exercises will be held at Centralia school June 8 at 8 o'clock. There will be a program, with an address given by Ray Adkinson, county superintendent of schools, who will also present the diplomas. The program will be opened with a song by the sixth, seventh and eighth grades, with salutatory address by Louise Retlick and valedictory by Mary Frank. Graduates are as follows: Pauline Atchley, Paul Bock, Bernard Claes, Mary Frank, Thelma F. LeBel, Geraldine Marshall, Alicia Pelous, Rosa Anna Pelous, Louise Retlick and Charles Bruce Tough.

Following the dinner a business meeting of the subordinate lodge was held after which the members joined the Rebekahs in playing "500." These monthly gatherings are proving very popular and helpful. In the absence of the noble grand, Mrs. Charles Croteau, the vice grand, Mrs. Gerald Miller, had charge of arrangements.

Mexican Pupils
Present Program

WESTMINSTER, June 5.—The commencement program of Hoover Mexican school was held Wednesday evening in the Westminster school auditorium. The chief address of the evening was made by James M. Monroe, superintendent of the local schools and principal of Westminster school, who spoke on the work of the Hoover school. Postmaster Clyde Day, president of the school board, made the presentation of diplomas to the five graduates, Rufus Bermudas, Lola Bermudas, Willie Burillo, Trinidad Alarcon and Pauline Cruz. Two members of the class, Rufus Bermudas and Trinidad Alarcon, expect to continue on to high school with the opening of the fall term.

Four plays were presented by some of the lower grades. The harmonics band offered several numbers and the primary grades gave four songs, with other songs by girls of the upper grades. The entire program was presented in English. The teachers of Hoover school are Professor Johnsen, Mrs. Ethel Paulk and Miss Myra Evans.

LIONS CLUB IS TO RECOGNIZE HONOR STUDENT

The "most outstanding student" of the Santa Ana high school will receive appropriate recognition from the Santa Ana Lions club, it has been decided by a committee of the club including Ray Adkinson, Gar C. Ross and G. K. Oliver, and concurred in by the board of directors.

The choice of the outstanding student will be made by a permanent committee of awards, including principal of the high school, director of athletics at the school, and the president of the Lions club.

"The Lions club of Santa Ana, convinced that proper recognition should be advanced when merit is portrayed on the part of youth," says an official announcement of the club, "has appointed a committee of awards and instructed the same to devise rules and regulations whereby the most outstanding student in the Santa Ana senior high school will annually receive appropriate recognition for the success of his efforts."

"The committee has recommended that the spirit of said reward should emphasize a balanced leadership. The following factors should be key points in making awards: namely, the candidate must maintain the average level of scholarship as established by the student body, some form of leadership as evidenced by popular choice must be capped with conscientious effort while in office, courtesy to superiors (faculty) and co-operation with same, integrity of character and lastly the candidate must have contributed to some outstanding school or community activity."

"The last factor named should possess the elements of recognized leadership in debating, drama, public speaking, athletics or in initiating any scientific or academic success which places the candidate in a position of wide recognition and high esteem."

WILLARD ACTIVITIES APPROACH CLOSE AS SCHOOL YEAR ENDS

Club Initiates

The Girls Athletic club has the honor to announce the pledging and initiation of the following girls: Betty Hill H. S., Evelyn Sheppard H. S., Jean Monroe H. S., Ruth McBurney L. S., Lorraine Clark H. S., Jean McBurney H. S., Ray Elledge H. S., Dolores Brooks H. S., Stella Montgomery H. S., Pauline Ramirez H. S.

Prize Winners

Willard is pleased to announce the winning of three first prizes in ninth grade art classes. In competition with Lathrop and Tustin, Willard took three out of four first prizes. Posters submitted had as their subjects the Ebell Flower Show, P. T. A. convention, Clean Up week and Poppy day.

The first prize of the Ebell Flower show was awarded to Margaret Ellen Sawyer of Willard who received a beautiful print of a California Mission. In the Clean Up poster contest Annie Tucker of Willard won first prize of $3. The third first prize won by a Willard student went to Lucille Nichols who received $2 for her poster submitted to the P. T. A.

Another award went to Jean Reuter of Willard who won a second prize of $2 in the Poppy day poster contest.

Graduates Busy

High nine students are about the busiest people around Willard school these days as the end of their work draws to a close. Anticipation of pleasure to come is sustaining some through the last flurry of work before summer vacation.

Many events crowd the calendar—the first of these being the graduation dinner to be held June 4 in the Christian Church club rooms. Mothers of the high nine, as is the custom, are to be the hostesses at dinner.

Waldo Smith is to be toastmaster. This event has always been one of the most delightful of graduation events and this year promises to be as successful.

The junior sermon is to be given in the high school auditorium this year. The Rev. W. J. Hatter of the Church of the Messiah, will deliver the address.

The last and most important event on the high nine calendar is graduation which will also be held in the high school auditorium on June 10 at 7:30 o'clock. Diplomas will be presented at this time and a program will be given under the direction of Miss Esther Jean Davis. Beatrice Grandis will play a piano solo and Dorothy Randal will give one of her beautiful whistling numbers. Numbers will be given by the Girls' Glee club, S. J. Mostel will direct the Willard orchestra in a selection.

Mrs. Grace Lund is chairman of the graduation committee with Miss Jean Davis, Miss Marion Libby, Arnold Lund, and Miss Dorothy Broadway serving on her committee.

Badge Tests

For the first time Athletic badge tests were given at Frances Willard this year. These trials are standard tests released by the American Playground and Recreation association of America and are designed to test the physical efficiency of girls at different ages.

Interest ran high in all grades as trial tests were run the first week and finals the week following. Girls perched precariously on all manner of rails and fences while other were doing deep knee bends.

The tests were considered very successful and 100 girls qualified for badges and certificates. These girls will receive attractive bronze medals from the Playground and Recreation Association of America.

In many cases records were broken, among them being that of Roberta Cleveland who ran the fifty yards in six seconds. The girls are very anxious to receive their medals which are expected from New York at any time.

Creative Work

Some interesting creative work in charcoal is being done in seventh and eighth grade art classes. The work turned out is unusually well done. Subjects used are original. Interesting pictures seen by the students: a place pictures of which they have pleasant memories, and other subjects of like nature. Illustrations are 12x18.

Speed-Ball Varsity Chosen

All first and second team captains met in the girls' physical education office last Thursday to choose a Varsity speed-ball team. It has been the custom after the conclusion of each sport season to choose an honorary varsity team which never plays scheduled games and is made up of the outstanding players in schools.

New Willard Visited

Willard students are enjoying their visits to the new school. Everyone wants to move immediately while the high nines seem determined to remain. The beautiful new Frances Willard junior high school is one of the best equipped in the state and Willard students are very proud of their new home. All sections in schools have visited the building during the last month during home room periods in order to acquaint themselves with their new surroundings for next year. Home room teachers and the boys and girls safety committees are in charge of these visits.

Junior Police Organized

In cooperation with the city police department the Boys' Safety committee at Willard will be reorganized and be known in the future as the Junior police. They will cooperate with the junior police of high school and of Lathrop. Similar policies will be carried out in the three schools as regards fire protective measures and traffic. W. P. Reed is faculty sponsor for the committee.

Beach parties are the thing to do now it seems and the Girls Athletic club is following suit. As a climax to activities of the term, a beach

SHE'D BEEN DOWN IN BED 4 MONTHS

"I'd been down in bed four months when I started taking Sargol. Stomach trouble caused me terrible suffering, and I was scarcely able to retain a particle of food. I'd have awful fainting spells, too, and pains in my right side and shoulder. My case seemed almost hopeless, but Sargol had me up in no time feeling like a different woman. Every trouble disappeared and I'm well and strong in every way. Sargol Pills overcame a stubborn case of constipation. I'll always bless the day I started this treatment."—Mrs. Orella Daley, 242 5th Ave., San Francisco.

party is to be held on Friday May 29, at Corona Del Mar after the close of school. Nancy White, Frances Was, Ruth Pels, Betty Lee, and Elinor Morilla are in charge. Miss Dorothy Broadway is faculty sponsor of the club.

Girls Glee Club

The girls glee clubs of Willard are busy preparing for graduation. They are also preparing to sing at the United Brethren church on May 31.

TOASTMASTERS CLOSE SEASON WITH ELECTION

A lively meeting, full of oratory and enthusiasm, marked the close of the season's work for the Toastmasters club, meeting Wednesday night at the Y. M. C. A.

William Iverson presided over a program which had been built around the oratorical qualifications of past presidents of the organization, and his conduct of the election of officers was a notable demonstration of political practice.

Nominations and seconding speeches made the room resound as the speakers recounted the virtues of their candidates.

The slate as prepared by the nominating committee was elected after much speaking and many votes, and so Harry LeBar is the new president, with W. H. Wright as vice president, D. H. Tibbals, secretary and treasurer, and C. J. Ruley sergeant at arms.

LeBar was named the official delegate to a meeting of the federation of Toastmasters clubs which will be held next Saturday at Long Beach. C. J. Ruley will be the representative of the Santa Ana club on the program of oratory which will feature the evening dinner meeting, his subject being "Seeing Things."

About 150 people are expected to attend the dinner Saturday evening.

which will be at the Long Beach Y. M. C. A. and which will draw representatives from all Southern California Toastmasters clubs, from Santa Barbara to San Diego.

Leaders Urge Immediate Building Of Huge Aqueduct

ORANGE COUNTY DELEGATES AT L. A. MEETING

Stressing the importance of immediate action toward construction of the aqueduct to bring water from the Colorado river into Southern California to supplement rapidly dwindling reserves and to provide for future development which will be throttled without additional water supplies, officials of the Metropolitan Water district spoke to a gathering of 462 municipal authorities and civic leaders from all Southern California at a dinner meeting in the Hotel Alexandria, Los Angeles, last night.

All speakers joined in declarations that immediate action was imperative, assigning as reasons the necessity of establishing a legal right to the water which it is proposed to take, and the need of providing insurance for the future industrial and residential growth of Southern California by sufficient water supplies.

A large delegation from Orange County was present at the dinner, representing Santa Ana, Fullerton and Anaheim, cities which are now members of the Metropolitan Water district. Recognition of Orange County as the richest per capita in the United States was claimed by C. C. Chapman, of Fullerton, who was one of the speakers of the evening, and acknowledged by John G. Bullock, of Los Angeles, a director of the district board and chairman of the meeting.

Roars of applause led by William P. Whitsett, chairman of the board of directors of the district, greeted a statement made by Chapman concerning the desirability of working out some method whereby all of Orange County would come into the district.

Engineering and legal phases of the work, agricultural and industrial need for additional water, and the challenge presented by the task, were discussed for the benefit of leaders from the various communities represented.

Congressman Swing Challenges
The address of the evening was made by Congressman Phil Swing, co-author of the Boulder dam bill and long a leader in the fight for more water for Southern California. He was presented to the great audience by Congressman W. E. Evans, who had made a short talk declaring that at the insistence of California the dam had been increased from a $35,000,000 flood control project to a $165,000,000 water conservation project, that the district had been organized and had agreed to take the water, and that it would have to go ahead with the plan or the entire state would stand impeached in the eyes of the nation. He introduced Swing as the author and finisher of the great project, whose efforts and devotion to the problem had been instrumental in bringing it about. Swing was given a great ovation by the crowd when he rose to speak.

"We fall now," Swing challenged, "thirty centuries to come will look down upon us in contempt for our failure. Let us not fail then, but lay the foundations for a great empire of which we can be proud. There is a grave responsibility resting on you leaders to start to carry out the completion of the project which means so much to Southern California. The thing to worry about is whether we have the vision to carry the project through."

"The question to be decided is whether we have faith in ourselves and our great communities. If we have faith in the future of this glorious community there is no question about what we must do. Population is still to increase, there is no reason to believe progress is to stop, so why hesitate? The government has approved the project and has set $165,000,000 for Southern California is going forward and will double in wealth and population."

Big Business Interested
"Big business came into Southern California because its leaders, hard-headed men, saw a condition they did not dare overlook. The steel industry has moved into what it considered a favored spot. Pittsburgh Plate Glass is coming in. This shows the verdict of big business on the future of Southern California."

"On us rests the determination of whether the problem of limitation of water which is now pressing, shall or shall not prevent future growth and development of this district."

"There is plenty of water in the Colorado river for the communities which are prepared to use it. You have a water right only if you use water. We have initiated steps toward using water from the river. First in use is first in right. If the district should vote against the bonds it might be construed as repudiation of our filing for 1930 second feet of water. If you want to make certain your right in the future to the 'fast water hole' you must take advantage of the opportunity now."

Aid Return to Prosperity
The congressman also pointed out that large sums of money for public construction were now available in banks at lower rates of interest than ever before and that start of the aqueduct work at this time would mean great savings and would at the same time be a tremendous impetus to the return of great prosperity in Southern California. He predicted, after making certain allowances, that the state would have a future population of at least 15,000,000 most of which would be in Southern California and that every possible step must be taken to assure water to support this population.

Chairman of the Board Whitsett, who had prepared a lengthy speech, made a big hit by discarding his manuscript and making a two-minute talk in which he said: "After wading through all the reports on statistics of growth, engineering and economics, there are only five things that stand out. They are—(1) Southern California must have more water; (2) Colorado river is the only place to go to get an ample and dependable supply; (3) the Parker route is the way to bring it; (4) the water is worth the money."

JOHN BROWN TELLS AUDIENCE OF 3000 PERSONS HOW JESUS BRINGS REST TO FOLLOWERS

Using the text from St. Mathews, "Come unto me all ye that labor and are heavy laden, and I will give you rest; for my yoke is easy and my burden light," as the theme for his sermon last night, John Brown, evangelist conducting a campaign at the corner of Broadway and Clementine streets in Anaheim, last night addressed a crowd that nearly overflowed the tabernacle. It was estimated that nearly 3000 were present.

Services were opened by a duet number sung by Mr. and Mrs. Elden Farrar and a solo sung by Mr. Farrar. The Rev. Walter Cole, pastor of the Orange Methodist church, pronounced the benediction. Large delegations were present from Orange and Fullerton. The night was designated as Methodist, Baptist and Missouri night.

John Brown opened his sermon by declaring that God judges us not by what we do but what we have the ability to do. He announced that tonight he will speak on the "Five Deaths," that he would hold a special service for women and girls Saturday at 2:30 p. m. and that he would talk Saturday night on a subject to be selected later. The children's chorus, composed of more than 300 voices, will be a feature on the program Saturday night. He also announced that the series of meetings probably would end a week from Sunday. Prayer services are held from 6:30 to 7:30 p. m. daily. Tonight the Rev. E. Burgl, pastor of the Salem Evangelical church, will lead the prayer services.

"I wonder if you people have ever noticed the striking difference in the wording of the Old Testament from the New Testament," John Brown asked in beginning his main address. "The old prophets had a scathing vocabulary. They invariably used words expressing command in their efforts to make people converted to Christianity. They said 'go-go-go and do-do-do,' and threatened fearful consequences to any that failed to heed their warnings. They had but a fair measure of success, trying again and again to make people listen to them and yet failing to make them see the light."

"After the era of the prophets there came a long period when Heaven did not speak again to the prophets and yet through the dark ages there was hope and confidence in the hearts of many through the conviction that some day someone would break the chains of their bondage and set them free."

"Humanity was crushed to earth with a thousand cares and fears. When finally Jesus came to this earth and spoke to men, many stop-

SAN CLEMENTE, June 5.—Officers for the San Clemente Parent-Teacher association were installed Wednesday afternoon by Mrs. Eleanor Clark, member of the San Clemente grammar school board. After the installation tea was served. Mrs. George Ferguson, retiring president, was presented with a present, a valued pin.

Officers installed follow: Mrs. Ralph Johnson, president; Mrs. Russell Tyree, vice president; Mrs. C. W. Wells, treasurer; Mrs. Lester Abell, historian; Mrs. Walter Rogers, auditor.

RAY ADKINSON NAMED LEADER OF LIONS CLUB

Ray Adkinson, county superintendent of schools, is the new president of the Santa Ana Lions club, having been elected at the regular meeting of the club held yesterday noon at Ketter's cafe. His name was put forward as a "dark horse" and he was unanimously elected upon retirement of the other nominees, Rod Bacon and F. C. Drumm.

Other officers elected were: First vice president, Carson Smith; second vice president, Al McLenthin; third vice president, W. K. Hilliard; secretary, Sunny Sundquist; treasurer, Lynn Hart; lion tamer, Joe Peterson; tail twister, Frank Purinton; directors, Gar C. Ross and C. E. Stewart.

John Henderson was chairman of the day, assisted by Ernest Gould. A craft talk on lumber was given by Gil Ward, new member representing the Barr Lumber company who said that 135,000 square miles of timber-crowling lands are being reforested, and there is now little waste of lumber.

The speaker of the day was Harry F. Henderson, general secretary of the Los Angeles Y. M. C. A. and brother of the program chairman. Choosing the subject "What You Should Know About Your Boys," the speaker pointed out educational, financial, and other aspects of a boy's life which men of the town should know about. Playing the game fair and square, he said, is more important than winning. If the winning is by unfair methods, "Companionship is the price of influence," said Henderson. "So if you have a boy, be a companion to him for that is the only way you can influence his standards of life."

Quoting figures to show the dollars-and-cents value of education, the speaker pointed out that grammar school graduates average annual earnings of $1200 to the age of 60, or a total of $45,000. High school graduates average $2200 per year, or $78,000 to the age of 60; and university or college graduates average $6000 per year, or $150,000 to the age of 60.

SALARIES IN LAUNDRY NOT TO BE PRUNED

Drivers of trucks for the Model Laundry last night were given the encouraging word that there would be no reductions in wages nor reductions in commissions throughout the plant.

The occasion was the fourth annual banquet of the drivers with the officers of the company, held at the Green Cat cafe.

About a score of employers and employees were present at the dinner.

The dinner meeting was presided over by Albert J. Blanchard, president of the company. Addresses were made by officers of the company and by representatives of the drivers.

Among the addresses were "The Model" by Charles C. Blanchard, vice president; "Quality and Service" by Albert J. Blanchard; "Living up to the Name" by Edward Walker, treasurer; "Fussy Fabrics" by Ernest Miller, superintendent; "Making Friends" by Daniel P. Stewart; "Things Worth While" by Verne O. Estes; "Salesmanship" by Dean W. Henson; "New Customers" by George Dearborn and "Our Mexican Trade" by Harry Colby.

During the dinner a beautiful gold watch was presented to the president of the company by the drivers.

HouseholdNative Daughter Group
Plans Surprise For Past President

Although Mrs. Walter Moore's birthday anniversary was on Tuesday of this week, her announced intention to attend the meeting of that afternoon of Santa Ana Women's club made it impossible for members of Santa Ana parlor, Native Daughters, to carry out their plans for a surprise party. So rather than be disappointed the native daughters celebrated the natal day just twenty-four hours later, and on Wednesday made an unexpected appearance at the home of Mrs. Moore, 1205 North Broadway.

They arrived in the forenoon hours, and each member bore some contribution to a surprise dish lunch menu until all that Mrs. Moore had to do in the preparation of the meal was to make coffee in one of the huge coffeepots of the family's camping equipment. It seemed that there was nothing lacking at the feast, and with the serving of the dessert course there were two delicious cakes, a chocolate fudge cake baked by Mrs. Elva Selvidge, and one of Mrs. William West's famous angel foods. The latter bore 16 pink candles in honor of the birthday event, and a cunning little fortune teller ready to foretell many more happy anniversaries for Mrs. Moore.

The day's surprises did not cease with the luncheon, for the guests showered their hostess, (a past president of Santa Ana parlor), with dainty handkerchiefs and other gifts during the course of the afternoon hours.

Those present to celebrate the occasion with Mrs. Moore were Mrs. Elva Selvidge, Mrs. Alice Rogers, Mrs. Elizabeth Marville, Mrs. May West, Mrs. Martha Divilney, Mrs. Rose Ford, Mrs. Hannah Kerr and Mrs. Marilinda Arnold.

Entertained By Mrs. Wallace

In brightening her home with flowers as a compliment to her dessert bridge club members, Mrs. L. Allen Wallace found that her friends were pleasantly interested, expressing that interest by sending her quantities of blooms in a veritable rainbow of colors.

These were used throughout her pretty home at 2144 Greenleaf street, but for the three small tables where a toothsome dessert course was served immediately after arrival of the guests, Mrs. Wallace reserved the orchid and white blossoms, choosing Shasta daisies and feathery scabiosa for the charming effect.

Places were indicated for the hostess, Mrs. Wallace, Mrs. Jack Fisher, Mrs. George Kenneth Scovel, Mrs. Robert Mize, Mrs. Fred Newcomb Jr., Mrs. Cassius Paul, Mrs. Clarence Nison, Mrs. Orlin Robertson, Mrs. E. W. Spruance, Mrs. William E. Wright of the club membership; Mrs. Fred Crowell, Mrs. Eugene Hays and Mrs. Katherine Marble, special guests of the afternoon who substituted for Mrs. Loyal King and Mrs. Harry West, absent members, and Mrs. Scovel who did not remain for the bridge games.

In the bridge contest, Mrs. Paul was victorious, receiving the customary club prize of a cup and saucer. The guest prize selected by Mrs. Wallace, was awarded Mrs. Hays.

New Directors Chosen
At Annual Meeting
In "The Barn"

Last night's annual meeting of Santa Ana Community Players' association held in "The Barn" resulted in the election of five new members to the board of directors, Frank Lansdown, Mrs. Marshall Harolds, Mrs. T. E. Stephenson, Mrs. John Tessman and R. R. Miller. Sam Hurwitz presided over the session in the absence of the president, W. H. Spurgeon. In the near future a meeting of the board will be called, and officers for the ensuing year will be chosen.

The program included a review of George Bernard Shaw's "Apple Cart," by Mrs. H. DeWolfe. In detail she gave points of interest regarding the play, with its typical Shavian humor. Of especial merit were the bits of conversation which she selected to read to the audience.

Considered as extremely valuable were the suggestions given by Mrs. Harolds on "How I Should Decorate The Barn." A general discussion on the topic followed, and several impromptu talks on the subject as well as others were given. One of these was on "Barn Membership."

Mr. Lansdown gave a treasurer's report, showing the strides that the organization is making. He reviewed the recent Tournament of One-Act plays held under the auspices of the Santa Ana Community Players, telling of its value as a publicity agent for this city.

He stated that considering the expenses for the tournament, the financial standing of the organization is highly satisfactory. Several members have not paid their dues yet, he said, and when these collections are all in, the treasury will be in much better condition.

It was announced that a round robin letter is being sent by the Players to Mr. and Mrs. W. H. Spurgeon, who are touring Europe.

To conclude the affair a social time was held, with the usual June crowd present to take part. Refreshments of sandwiches, coffee and chocolate were served. Members of the standing committee include Miss Edith Cornell, Mrs. Florence McElay, Miss Doris Robbins and Mrs. Warren Fletcher.

Others assisting were Mrs. Harolds and Mrs. J. U. Visau, members of the June committee.

ANNOUNCEMENTS

The Mexican Franciscan Sisters of 111 West Fifth street, have announced a benefit program for tomorrow night at 7 o'clock, in the Knights of Columbus hall. The affair will offer dramatic sketches and music, the former to be in Spanish for the entertainment of Spanish-speaking people of the community. Young girls of classes taught by the Sisters in Santa Ana and El Modena will take part. Mother Helen and her associate Sisters will have charge of the program which will compliment the Mother General of the order now making an official visit here from headquarters in Mexico. Tickets may be secured at the hall tomorrow night or through Miss Sutherland, telephone 3451-W.

The Fifth Household Economics section of Ebbl society will have a luncheon meeting Tuesday, June 9 at 12:30 o'clock at Casa del Camello in Laguna Beach. Those unable to attend will please notify Mrs. Cood Adams, telephone 2353-W.

The meeting of the Fourth Household Economics section of Ebbl society, to have been held Wednesday, June 10 at Balboa in Mrs. Marguerite Dickinson's home has been postponed until further notice is made.

Members of Sarah A. Rounds tent No. 10, Daughters of Union Veterans, will meet Tuesday afternoon at 2 o'clock in the Knights of Pythias hall.

The Past President's club of Sarah A. Rounds tent No. 10, Daughters of Union Veterans will hold an all-day meeting Thursday with luncheon at 1 o'clock in the home of Mrs. Louane Leech, 118 East Washington street in Orange.

The garden party scheduled to have been held this evening at 7:30 o'clock at 926 West Bishop street by the Ladies' Aid of the Richland Avenue Methodist church has been postponed indefinitely.

The Immanuel Bible school picnic will be held Monday afternoon and evening in Irvine park. A program of ball games and sports will be held in the afternoon and supper will be at 6:30 o'clock in order that all the men of the church may be present to share the merry hour with their families. Those wishing information about transportation, the picnic supper, etc., may telephone Mrs. H. A. Moormay, 5395-W.

Competition in Golf Tournament Proves
To Be Keen

That constantly mounting enthusiasm in golf which is being shown by women of the community, was expressed yesterday by the presence of 43 players at the weekly tournament held on the Country club grounds, where players of Classes A, B and C competed for special prizes and for sweepstakes.

Mrs. Hugh Shields, a member of Class A won the sweepstakes, with Mrs. William Foote and Mrs. F. C. Drumm tying for second place. In a secondary feature in which Mrs. Osman Pixley offered prizes to players of this class, Miss Mary Salsberry won the low gross; Mrs. Shields, the low net and again Mrs. Pixley and Mrs. Drumm tied for second place. Special prize winners were Mrs. Fay Talbert, Mrs. L. Ainsworth and Mrs. Ray Townsend.

Class A players were Mrs. Benjamin J. MacMullen, Mrs. W. W. Foote, Mrs. Hugh Shields, Mrs. J. K. McDonald, Mrs. Fay Talbert, Mrs. F. G. Drumm, Mrs. J. L. Ainsworth, Mrs. Ray Townsend, Mrs. Osman Pixley, Miss Mary Salsberry, Mrs. J. LaMonte McFadden and Mrs. Charles V. Doty.

In Class B, Mrs. Don Andrews scored high with Mrs. W. F. Kistinger taking second prize and Mrs. Dora Rodgers third. Others playing in this class were Mesdames Hugh J. Lowe, C. R. Purp, E. T. Mateer, J. H. Booge, McClure, Howard Rapp, W. Hoyle, Norbert Lenta, C. H. Chapman, W. N. Plattner, R. W. Bales, Roy Langley and Walter Vandermast.

Miss Lu Pomeroy won first prize in Class C, and Mrs. Charles Cogan second. Mrs. Foster Lamme, Mrs. Lew Blodgett and Miss Dorothy Diehl tied for third place, and other players were Mrs. H. L. Miller, Mrs. Joe C. Burke, Mrs. G. B. Patton and Mrs. Nat Neff.

The president's prize, a box of monogrammed stationery offered by A. G. Plagg, was secured by Miss Pomeroy. A similar prize will be played for next month, and also the women will compete for two special club prizes offered in a 64-hole tournament. Players of a classer meal platter, and of Class C for a silver bon-bon dish.

Other players down yesterday who did not enter any of the tournaments, were Mesdames H. T. Dunning, Fred Rowland, A. D. Walsh, Elliott Rowland, Paul Williams, Carl Mock and Miss Nan Mead.

Rehearsal Party Is
Last Pre-nuptial
Festivity

Coming as a delightful sequel to the rehearsal for Saturday's wedding of Miss Genevieve Owen and William H. Wollaston, was the charmingly evening in the home of Mr. Wollaston's mother, Mrs. George Wollaston, 642 North Ross street.

Members of the bridal party assembled there after the hour spent in the bride chapel of the First Methodist Episcopal church in preparation for the approaching ceremony, and found the home fragrant with flowers arranged in their honor. In the party in addition to the complimented young people, Miss Owen and Mr. Wollaston, and the hostess, were E. N. Owen, who will give his daughter in marriage; Mr. and Mrs. Frank Wollaston, Charles Wollaston, J. Robert Paine Jr., William C. Strange Jr., Mrs. H. Y. Evans, Miss Elizabeth Paine, Miss Maurie Hamill, Miss Harriet Wollaston and Mrs. Ada K. Peck.

Mrs. Wollaston had planned an unusually pleasing effect for the table, where refreshments and roses were served, using delphiniums and roses, emphasizing their charm by the use of slender pink tapers in tall candelabra, and rose glass for serving the dainty menu.

Miss Owen and Mr. Wollaston took the opportunity to present attractive gifts to their wedding party, the bride-elect choosing rhinestone bracelets for her attendants, and her fiancé presented leather comb cases and letter cases to the men of the group.

The chosen wedding date of Saturday, June 6, was announced on April 11 when Miss Owen and her sister, Mrs. Earl M. Elson of Orange, entertained at a bridge tea. In the intervening interval the bride-elect has been complimented at several pretty parties, the most recent of which were given by Miss Elizabeth Paine, entertaining at a miscellaneous shower, and by Mrs. Vernon Fletcher, Mrs. Eugene Ferguson and Miss Joan Thleme, presenting a kitchen shower.

The trio of hostesses received their guests in the home of Mrs. Fletcher on East Seventeenth street, where bridge tables were placed amidst a profusion of colorful flowers. At the refreshment hour following the bridge game, Mrs. Fletcher announced that she was ready to tell fortunes, and with her honor guest as her first subject, foretold many pretty presents for her immediate future. The fortune came true at once with the presentation of an array of colorful articles for the kitchen of the future home.

Floral Tea
Miss Paine also presented a bridge tea establishing a lovely motif not only in decorations but in the unique prizes rewarding winners at bridge. To Mrs. Charles V. Davis, scoring high, was presented a potted fern, while a hydrangea went to Mrs. Coy Swindle and a begonia carried its consoling cheer to Mrs. H. L. Cole.

At the tea hour each small table was arranged with its own pretty linens and centered with graceful amber baskets of delicate gilded flowers. The miscellaneous gifts selected for the honoree, were presented her in an overflowing basket.

One-Table Bridge Club
Has Luncheon Meeting

Using Los Angeles roses in her decorations, Mrs. R. L. Ballard entertained members of a one-table bridge club at her home, 2515 North Main street, yesterday. Luncheon was served at 1 o'clock. The afternoon was devoted to the usual card contest, which proved to be especially profitable for Mrs. Daisy McGee, who scored high.

Those present, other than Mrs. Ballard, were Mrs. Leland Eubank, Mrs. Daisy McGee, Santa Ana, and Mrs. George Merriman, Orange.

JOHN BROWN
SPEAKS BEFORE

ped to listen to his teachings and said "here is a man who has a message with a lesson." They flocked around him to listen to the blessed words of invitation that fell from his lips. Words of invitation, mind you, not of command. Herein lies the great contrast with the methods of the old prophets.

"Come," Jesus said, a word that expressed the beauty and life of Christianity. The word appears in the form of an invitation over 600,000 times in the Bible.

"Tonight, instead of uncovering sin and warning you of its dire consequences, I shall try to relieve you of some of the heavy burdens that beset you. I shall invite you to meet Jesus Christ and take Him to your heart. He can meet all your needs and dispel all your cares. All that have ever come to Jesus have found rest—and so will you if you come to Him.

"It is one thing to know Christ as the Savior at the cross and another to know Him as one who walks constantly by your side today and who relieves your burdens and gives you peaceful rest. The first day you come to Jesus may seem like the biggest day in your life but I don't think it should be. He should grow daily to be a bigger part of your heart and each day should be bigger and better because of this.

"Now listen to me! You people are carrying burdens. I say, cast your burdens on the Lord; He wants them. If you are true Christians and want to help others see the light and lessen their burdens, you can do no good for others. Do you mean, Brother Brown, that God can relieve me of my burdens?" people ask me. Yes, he can, I say, and I know what I'm talking about.

"There are two kinds of cares, real and imaginary. The imaginary ones are the worst because it is impossible to seize them and to deal with them. They exist only in the minds of those who are so afflicted. I feel sorry for anyone who has to borrow money but I feel doubly sorry for those who have to borrow money. You hear many say, 'Lord, what am I going to do tomorrow?' People worry about things that never happen, and when you borrow trouble the interest stacks up plenty.

"God help those who walk the floor with imaginary troubles until the joy is gone from their hearts. Many of you are crushed to earth with a thousand cares and burdens. God can save you from that. You know, I think that wearing is better than borrowing trouble. Don't get me wrong, I mean on the constitution. The God who watches the sparrows fall, I wonder what He thinks when He sees us walking the floor and bemoaning our fate. 'Pay your debts or be damned,' I say, but walking the floor won't help. It's amazing what you can do when you trust God and ask His help and get a good night's sleep.

"It is one thing to know Christ as the Savior at the cross and another to know Him as your side. Do you know Him like this? He is your everyday companion if you will let Him walk by your side. I want you to learn to practice the presence of the Lord.

"The Lord Jesus is able to fix you up. He can give you the sweetest rest you'll ever know when as a sinner you are given rest by the Savior. There are two kinds of rest obtainable through Jesus. The given rest and the found rest. I think the found rest is the sweetest, it's like finding a lot of gold nuggets inside a hill. 'Come sit down at my feet and I will speak rest into your hearts and souls,' Jesus said, and he can do it. It will be the most beautiful, vibrant thing that every happened to you. 'If you go out of here

Frozen Mint Sauce

Roast lamb and mint sauce have been soulmates for more years than you and I have lived. That is, the mint sauce always appears with the lamb, but not everyone cares to have it slopping around the dinner plate. You will welcome this delightful way of serving it if you have a mechanical refrigerator or a vacuum freezer.

Mint Apple Sherbet
2 cups freshly made apple sauce.
Sugar to taste.
Dash of lemon juice.
Fresh bruised mint to flavor.
About six nice stalks of mint will be enough. Strip off the leaves, mince them fine and marinate in the lemon juice for 15 minutes, then set the cup over warm water just long enough to extract the full flavor. Strain into the apple sauce, which should not be too thick, sweeten slightly, and freeze to a firm sherbet. Serve in sherbet glasses to accompany the roast.

Creamy Orange Sherbet can be delightfully different if fresh mint flavors it. Use the same method for extracting the mint oil as given for the apple sherbet.

TODAY'S RECIPE

Cheese Hollandaise Sauce
4 tablespoons butter
3 tablespoons flour
1 scant teaspoon salt
1-4 teaspoon cayenne
1 egg, well beaten
2 cups milk
Juice of 1-2 lemons
1 cup grated cheese.

—Ann Meredith

Have the water in the bottom of a double boiler bubbling briskly. Melt the butter, blend it with the flour, salt and cayenne, add the milk and stir constantly until it cooks into a smooth sauce. Add the beaten egg, stir for a few seconds, then add the cheese and keep on the stirring until the cheese has melted and the sauce is very smooth.

If the cheese is added too soon or if not stirred enough while melting it may curdle the sauce. This can be corrected when the lemon juice is added by whipping the sauce with the egg beater.

After the cheese is well melted, drip in the lemon juice, and do not stop stirring for a single instant. Then set the boiler away from the fire, cover the sauce and just before serving whip it up.

Uses For The Sauce

A perfect dressing for fresh asparagus or for artichokes.

And don't forget—IT CAN BE REHEATED—if a double boiler is used.

This sauce has a calory value of 35 per tablespoonful, with the calories largely proteins.

"IT'S YOUR DUTY!"

Kay Francis and Paul Lukas in a dramatic scene from the new show "The Vice Squad," which will show with vaudeville at the Fox West Coast theater Saturday and Sunday.

"LAWYER'S SECRET" IS STIRRING STORY

"The Lawyer's Secret," an excellently acted and thoroughly convincing drama running the entire gamut of human emotion, from love to hate, from security to dreadful fear, opened a three-day run at the Fox Broadway theater here last night. It is deep-drawn emotional entertainment that keeps the interest steadily at peak.

Charles Rogers makes his initial appearance in a real dramatic role in "The Lawyer's Secret." For the first time on the screen, the engaging and much-engaged young juvenile has an opportunity to display the real acting talent which underlay his romantic popularity. He does a great job in a stirring manner.

Nor is the handsome Rogers portrayal overshadowed by the tremendously forceful acting of Clive Brook and Richard Arlen in the conflicting roles. Brook, as a perplexing lawyer in whom love and duty and an appealing human desire fight for mastery, carries the motivating role of the drama. In love with Fay Wray, he is forced to conceal from her, as well as the world, his knowledge that Rogers, her brother, is really guilty of a crime for which Arlen is on trial for his life. Jean Arthur, as Arlen's sweetheart, handles the role with her usual convincing ability.

"The Lawyer's Secret" is a strong screen fare, presenting real and lively problems in an exciting situation. Its audiences are taken right to the heart of its dilemma. Its spectators are made to feel that this tense emotional situation might really happen to them.

Wendell Hill scoring high. She received a faint little bonbon dish, and for scoring second high, Mrs. C. E. Utt, the hostess' mother, was presented with a sugar and cream set.

The refreshment menu served was a dainty one in two courses. The first included avocado salad, hot rolls and coffee, while the second consisted of strawberry parfait. Tables were centered with quaint bowls of pansies.

Those sharing Mrs. Finley's hospitality were Mesdames C. E. Utt, A. G. Finley, Harold Finley, Horace, Leeling, E. E. Sprague, Wendell Hill, James Utt, James McCalla, Albert Thorman, Foster Prather, Ernest Crozier Phillips, Frank Browning, Edmund West, Lyman Farwell, and the Misses Rosa Boyd, Marjorie Rawlings, Charlotte Moulton, Frances Barr, Stella Yokum and Marian Stanley.

Mrs. Leland Finley Entertains With Bridge Party

A colorful party of the week was that given Wednesday afternoon by Mrs. Leland Finley in her home, 1201 South Flower street. Snapdragons and gladioluses in the most vivid hues of red and yellow were used in carrying out the decorative motif.

The afternoon hours were devoted to playing bridge with Mrs.

"TARNISHED LADY" IS WELL RECEIVED

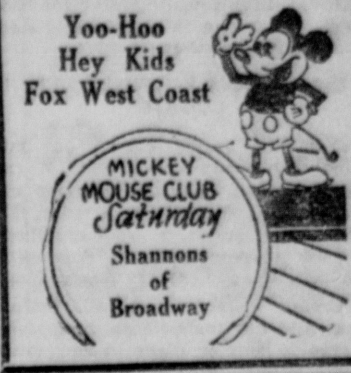

Audiences at the Fox West Coast theater last night, where "Tarnished Lady" opened its two-day run, met a new and shining screen personality which is already a sensation. She is Tallulah Bankhead, the American girl who invaded England with charm and captivated the whole British nation from the stage.

Co-starred with Clive Brook, the suave English leading man, Miss Bankhead's beauty, vivacity and talent show to excellent advantage in the dramatic story written for her by Donald Ogden Stewart. Stewart, who has been climbing rapidly to front rank among the new American dramatists, has, in "Tarnished Lady," written a moving picture story which acclimates with smartness and brilliancy.

It is the story of a girl who chooses to marry for money rather than meet poverty by yielding to the dictates of her heart. She discovers the bitterness of loveless marriage, and, too late, tries to retrieve the glories of her lost love. Disillusioned, she turns to reality, and finds in the man she married a love greater than the one she lost.

Of all the costly wonders that the palace of the Mogul emperors at Delhi contains, the most wonderful and costly was the peacock throne, constructed during the reign of Shah Jehan, and valued at more than $30,000,000. It was in the form of two peacocks, and was inlaid with costly jewels.

North Long Beach Home Provides Setting For Traveling Party

Motoring to North Long Beach Wednesday evening, members of the A. D. club spent an enjoyable time playing bridge as guests of Mr. and Mrs. John Culp. Tables were named Glacier National Park, Yosemite, Yellowstone and Grand Canyon, and each score card bore the name of some city of importance. Partners were chosen by localities instead of numbers.

The hostess arranged bouquets of vari-colored spring flowers throughout the rooms to form a setting for the events of the evening. Clever little hat boxes served as tallies for women, while men were given suitcases. Results of the games proved Mrs. Floyd Lyman and Ed Hanson to be high in scoring, and Mrs. Noble McBride and L. D. Spencer, low.

At a later hour refreshments of ice cream, cake and coffee were served at the small tables spread with green cloths.

Those present were Messrs. and Mesdames Dean Campbell, George Seba, W. B. Davis, Noble McBride, Floyd Lyman, John Culp, Miss Gladys Young, Ed Hanson, and two special guests, Mr. and Mrs. L. D. Spencer of Fullerton.

College Botanists Seek Refreshing Sea Breezes

Leaving Tuesday afternoon members of the junior college botany class spent the evening swimming and playing games at Corona del Mar. The game program was held on the sands and after the picnic supper, stories and jokes were told around the bonfire.

Miss Gladys Lloyd and Miss Wilma Grist were in charge of the affair. Other botanists enjoying the outing were Mr. and Mrs. J. Russell Bruff and son, Steven; Miss Helen Estock, Miss Mildred Harmon, Miss Ruth Burbridge, Miss Eleanor Winslow, Miss Norma Cosner, Miss Margaret Crane, Miss Lucile Reisch, Miss Mary Mateer, Burt Winslow, Harry Clayton and Howard Randall.

THE WEEKLY PANTRY SHELF

HONEY COOKIES

Honey cookies of all descriptions are pleasing and the hostess who would always be prepared will use honey in her cookie-making because honey cookies improve with age. They need not be made at the last minute, they are the better for having been made in advance. Keep them always on hand.

CHOCOLATE REFRIGERATOR COOKIES

1-1/2 cup brown sugar, 1-1/2 cup honey, 1-1/2 cup shortening, 1 egg, 1-2 teaspoon salt, 1-4 teaspoon soda, 1 teaspoon baking powder, 1-2 cup pecan meats, 5 1-2 cups flour, 4 to 6 tablespoons cocoa, depending on degree of chocolate flavor liked.

Cream sugar, honey, shortening, egg. Add dry ingredients, then nuts, shape in loaf or place in refrigerator cookie mold. Chill several days to allow sufficient ripening of dough. Slice off and bake in hot oven (400 degrees) for about 10 to 12 minutes. After baking, cookies, if allowed to stand several days, are improved in flavor.

FRUIT FILLED REFRIGERATOR COOKIES

These are indeed a delightful tea service. Use the same dough given for Chocolate Refrigerator cookies omitting the cocoa. Allow dough to stand in refrigerator several days.

Mix 1-1/2 cup ground dates, 1-2 cup ground cherries, 1-2 cup nuts (chopped) adding just enough honey to make it stick together (1-4 to 1-2 cup). Shape this in loaf and wrap in waxed paper and place in refrigerator. After two or three days will be very stiff. Slice off this slice of white dough, place on this thin slice of thin dough, top with another slice of thin dough. Bake 15 minutes in hot oven (400 degrees F.). Any combination of dried fruits (raisins, prunes, apricots, etc.) may be used for the fruit roll filling.

Send your contributions to the American Honey Institute directly to Russell H. Kelly, Treasurer, East Lansing, Mich.

TEA

Tea sweetened with honey is delicious. The blending of the fragrance of flowers with the refreshing qualities of tea is just perfect and for those of us who like lemon, orange and ginger in our teas, honey provides harmonious blending for all. Honey is convenient to use in hot tea, just a few drops from the honey jar or a teaspoonful if one likes tea sweet.

HONEY TEA (2 CUPS)

One individual ten bag or equivalent in tea, two cloves, pinch cinnamon, one teaspoonful lemon juice, three teaspoonful honey (mild.)

Place all of the above in individual tea pot and pour almost boiling water over; let steep two or three minutes before pouring.

FOUR O'CLOCK TEA

One individual tea bag, two teaspoonful honey, two pieces crystallized ginger, few drops fresh lemon juice. Place all of the above in individual tea pot and pour very hot water over. Let steep two or three minutes before pouring. The flavor and stimulating twanginess is so good with tea wafers or nut bars.

FRUIT TEAS

Orange slices and lemon slices (if in season, fresh strawberries). Make very thin slices of orange and lemon and stack them one on top of other in glass jar using as many slices as necessary for number of guests there are (allow two slices of each fruit per individual). Pour over these enough mild warm honey to cover and let stand two or three hours before using.

Fill cups with tea and drop in one or two or three of these honey soaked fruit slices. Honeyed fruit slices may be arranged on small service plates and passed to guests to select their personal choice.

Honey has permeated the fruit tissues and just the minute the slices strike the hot tea, they give off the fragrance of the flowers from which they came, and a most perfect beverage results.

These teas are also delightful when iced.

Mr. and Mrs. Kirkhart, proprietors of the service station at the Huntington Beach-Boles boulevard intersection, have taken the duplex house on Jackson street and are moving here from Santa Ana. Mr. Kirkhart has been staying at the Midway City Inn since he took over the station.

Mr. and Mrs. Sterling Price motored to Ontario Wednesday, bringing to their home their daughter, Mrs. Thelma Williamson, and her daughter, Betty, both of whom have been ill and who will remain here while convalescing.

Mr. Halford, local carpenter, has rented his home and is leaving Midway City. It is understood.

Mr. and Mrs. Ray Schureman, in company with Dr. and Mrs. F. H. Johnstone, of Santa Ana, motored to Pasadena for a day. They were luncheon guests of Mrs. Schureman's parents, Mr. and Mrs. E. T. Everard, returning to Midway City in the evening.

Mr. and Mrs. Schureman entertained at dinner in honor of Charles A. Wittet, who was observing a birthday anniversary that day. Mr. Wittet, Dr. and Mrs. Johnstone and Mr. and Mrs. Schureman formed the dinner party.

Eugene Luff, young son of Mr. and Mrs. George Luff, has been ill at the family home for the past week.

Mrs. McKenzie and two children and Mrs. J. L. Beaver and two children contemplate a summer vacation of several months to be spent at Lake Arrowhead.

Mrs. Ray Schureman sang at a luncheon of the Huntington Beach Rotary club at the Golden Bear cafe, Mrs. Margaret Colvin acting as her accompanist.

BARBER CITY

BARBER CITY, June 5.—Mrs. Howard Melvin and Mrs. A. N. Olson motored to Santa Monica Tuesday to visit Mrs. Melvin's young nephew, Billy Terrill, who suffered an injury of the skull in an automobile accident together with other injuries of a more minor nature. He was brought from the hospital to his home and his mother, who is a trained nurse, is caring for him.

Four tables of "500" were played at a party held by a group at the Barber City clubhouse. Prizes were awarded. Mrs. M. Cochran being presented a flower vase, and E. James, a cigar holder as first prize, and Mrs. Hilbourn and Mr. Hemphill an elephant pin cushion and napkin holder as second prizes. Refreshments of cake and coffee were served at the close of the evening.

Mr. and Mrs. Clifford Rhea have returned from a vacation spent in San Diego county, where in Moose canyon they visited Mr. Rhea's parents.

Mr. and Mrs. James Winslow enjoyed a visit Sunday from their niece and husband, Mr. and Mrs. Holerness. The visitors are of Pasadena.

Miss Irene Corey, of Kallistell, Mont., arrived Monday evening in Barber City, coming to join her uncle and aunt, Mr. and Mrs. M. Cochran, with whom she will make her home.

Messrs. Oleson, Hilbourn and Westline took a fishing trip Tuesday.

The regular meeting of the Barber City Women's Improvement club is to be held next Thursday evening at the home of Mrs. Clyde Cochran.

GRAND CENTRAL MARKET

WESTMINSTER

WESTMINSTER, June 5.—Mr. and Mrs. R. L. Pollard had as recent guests, Mr. and Mrs. S. C. Hollibaugh, former local people, now of Ashland, Ore., who are spending some time at Santa Monica with relatives.

Mr. and Mrs. Stevens, uncle and aunt of Mrs. Reuben Edwards and Mrs. Chester Hemstreet, who have been visiting California relatives the past two weeks, have returned to their home in Wyoming.

Mr. and Mrs. Lee Farrar entertained a group of relatives as their guests Sunday. Mr. Farrar's mother, Mrs. E. A. Farrar, of Santa Ana, came Saturday to the Farrar home and they visited the cemetery that day. Sunday, Mrs. E. A. Farrar's niece and husband, Mr. and Mrs. Frank Jenkins, joined them and cousins of Mr. Farrar, Mr. and Mrs. Frank Pine, and Mr. and Mrs. Guy Bennett, motored here from Los Angeles for the day. In the evening Mr. and Mrs. Lee Farrar and Mrs. Anna Farrar attended the John Brown meetings in Anaheim, where Alden Farrar, a nephew of Lee Alden Farrar, is the singer. Tuesday evening, Mr. and Mrs. Lee Farrar again attended the meeting on Garden Grove night, and were of the group who enjoyed picnic supper at the Anaheim park prior to the services.

Mr. and Mrs. Chester Hemstreet and sons spent a day at Riverside as guests of Mr. Hemstreet's parents.

Mr. and Mrs. Kenneth Cawthorn, of Santa Ana, brother and sister-in-law of Mrs. Reuben Edwards, were Sunday dinner guests of Mr. and Mrs. Edwards.

Two cases of scarlet fever are reported for Westminster. Billy Lou Morgan, who took ill last Saturday, is improved after having been ill. The other case was discovered Tuesday.

Miss Lorene Davis and L. O. Bartula, of Hollywood, were entertained as Sunday guests in the home of Mr. and Mrs. C. M. Stephenson at New Westminster, and Fred Tague, of Los Angeles, also was their guest.

Word of the birth of a seven-pound daughter to the Rev. and Mrs. Mrs. Virgil Elliott at Greensborough, Penn., has been received here. The father, who is pastor of the Christian church in Greensborough, is the eldest son of Mr. and Mrs. Virgil Elliott, and was one of the outstanding athletes in the Huntington Beach Union High school.

The babe besides other local relatives has in this community its grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. Virgil Elliott, a great-grandmother, Mrs. Mary Elliott, and a great-grandmother, Mrs. Sarah Castle.

The Rev. and Mrs. Virgil Elliott and babe will leave for California the last week in July, for a vacation trip.

Mrs. Ellen Gothard and Mrs. Ethel Sebastian motored to Los Angeles to visit their daughter and sister, Mrs. Mary Buchannon, and upon their return found a group of relatives and friends had arrived as overnight guests. The party included Mrs. Gothard's son-in-law and daughter, Mr. and Mrs. Jack Powell, and children, of Colton; Mr. Powell's mother, Mrs. Powell, and his brother, Jeff Powell, and wife and children; a brother, Henry Powell and wife of Colton, and a friend of the group, also of Colton. A part of the time was spent by the visiting group at the beach.

Evening church services will be discontinued Sunday evening that the congregation may attend the high school baccalaureate services at Huntington Beach.

Mr. and Mrs. Charles Blaylock, of Wilmington, visited in the W. W. Blaylock home, where they were dinner guests following their return from a trip to San Diego. Two brothers-in-law and sisters of Mr. Blaylock, Dr. and Mrs. U. G. Littell, of Santa Ana; Mrs. Emma Pryor and daughter, Mrs. Carmen Waffle, of Huntington Beach, and Mr. and Mrs. Dave Johnson, of Hawthorne, have also visited in the Blaylock home during the week. Mrs. Cenar Stockton, who had been visiting in Santa Ana with relatives, returned here with Dr. and Mrs. Littell.

The infant child of Mr. and Mrs. Parcells, who has been quite ill, is reported as decidedly improved.

Mr. and Mrs. R. L. Thiebaud entertained their son, Morton Thiebaud, and wife, of Huntington Park, as their guests, Sunday. Mrs. Henry Friend has been spending a week with relatives in Taft.

The offering for which the missionary mite box offering goes, has been paid, and $9 was turned in this week to this cause by the women of the local Methodist church.

PILLS ARE OFTEN DANGEROUS

Most laxatives have to be taken in ever-increasing doses. Otherwise, they lose their power. The body needs roughage.

One of the most natural ways to obtain this roughage is by eating a delicious cereal: Kellogg's ALL-BRAN. Read what Mr. Albert P. Parker of Massachusetts has to say:

"I am 52 years old and have put in years suffering from constipation. Bought all kinds of pills and drugged myself with them and awoke lots of mornings with a headache.

"Haven't taken one pill since I began on Kellogg's ALL-BRAN. I am now feeling the best I have felt in 20 years."

Two tablespoonsfuls of ALL-BRAN daily are guaranteed to give relief. At your grocer's, in the red-and-green package. Made by Kellogg in Battle Creek.

Tax Cost To Be Low

In his prepared address he had pointed out that Southern California is using every day from its reservoirs 170,000,000 gallons of water more than nature or man is putting back and that it will not be long until the supply is exhausted. He also had prepared figures to show that the per capita cost is less than that of the Owens valley project undertaken by Los Angeles and that taxes paid during the seven year construction period by a family owning a home valued at $8000 on account of the Metropolitan Aqueduct bond issue will amount to only $2.55 a year, or less than one cent a day. He also prophesied that the aqueduct will be on a self sustaining basis at the end of 15 years, when the bonds would begin to mature.

Chief Engineer Frank E. Weymouth in his remarks stated that the project had been under way seven years, starting on recommendations of William Mulholland, pioneer water engineer, and that careful studies had been made of the amount of water that would be required. He said that from all sources the territory embraced in the district was now using 1,100,000 acre feet of water and that it was proposed to bring in 550,000 acre feet of water annually on an average over a long period. The district would have doubled population in the next 40 years at a very conservative estimate, he said, but the water must be provided first. From 200,000 to 250,000 acre feet of water is being used each year more than is coming into the district now, he revealed.

Water Supply Overdrawn

Los Angeles, Pasadena and Orange county, he declared are over-drawing their water supplies by pumping, and the engineer pointed out that Los Angeles exceeded its supply 65 per cent last year and 75 per cent this year. He said under normal rainfall conditions Los Angeles would have 1938, but that if last until 1936 he continued the drought conditions continued the supply would last only two or three years. He further informed the audience that there is some 40 miles along the coast where salt water is intruding and that there is 162 miles of area where water levels were below sea level.

Engineer Answers Critics

He answered some criticism of building the large aqueduct by presenting a detailed statement of cost comparison between the smaller units proposed in some quarters and the one recommended by the engineers. Overhead and operating costs would be practically the same and half of the capacity will be needed in the first 10 years, he declared.

"The aqueduct should be built now," Engineer Weymouth asserted. "The water will be needed before it can be completed even if we start at once. Public works should be constructed in times of depression to provide employment and secure lower costs. The aqueduct will be wealth creating—it is a necessity, not a luxury. The engineers are ready to start the day after the bonds are voted."

Legal phases of the matter were discussed for the group by General Counsel W. B. Matthews. In his talk he said the meeting was very important in the history of California, in that it concerned the consideration of an immense project by a cross section of the leaders of all Southern California. He pointed out that failure to proceed would immediately strike from assessed valuations more than the cost of the aqueduct and that if it were decided to go ahead many times the cost of the project would be added. "It is a problem to test the courage of any American community, and I believe we have the courage," he said. "There is no choice—we must go on."

C. C. Chapman Pledges Support
Wholehearted support of Orange county to the program of bringing about the start of construction at the earliest possible moment was pledged in the address by C. C. Chapman, who talked on the subject "Agriculture's Need for Colorado River Water." He pointed out that Orange county was the richest per capita of any agricultural county in the U. S. and that crops of the county amounted to $43,000,000 last year, which was made possible through the use of great quantities of water.

"We forget we are living in a semi-arid country," Chapman said. "We boast of our sunshine, but that alone means a dry country. We must have additional water. The apathy of the people is the tragedy of it all. They are satisfied because they have enough water for present needs but do not know that we have exhausted supplies to the danger point. We have taken out half the supply already, and now need to conserve and to look for further supplies."

"It is a problem that is not confined to cities alone. It is a serious problem for agricultural districts and orange growers. In Orange county there are three cities that are members of the district and many outside the cities realize the needs of more water. It is desirable to work out some plan whereby the entire county can come into the district. We realize that the best plan is through the construction of the aqueduct. The time for action has now arrived. We need to agitate and educate."

Tribute to Mulholland

William Lacy, Los Angeles pioneer and former president of the chamber of commerce and community chest of that city, spoke on the subject "Industry's Need for Colorado River Water." He reviewed the history of water development for Los Angeles and paid a tribute to the work of Engineer Mulholland, who was warmly greeted by the audience and given an ovation. "Water is our life blood and we can't put off bringing it here," he said. "Industries are coming to this district because oil and gas has solved the fuel problem that used to confront us, and the great harbor development is the means of bringing in raw materials and shipping finished products cheaply. It is destined to be a great industrial center. We'll need a lot of water for these industries and the population increase they bring with them."

James F. Collins, port manager of Long Beach, asserted that when the water is brought in from the Colorado all pumps should be shut down until the underground basin it can keep out the menace of salt water invasion. He also pointed out that California has gone on record before congress and the financial centers of the east that it was drying up, and that consequently development would immediately stop if we now failed to show some additional source of water supply. Collins also said 60 to 70 per cent of the population of Southern California was from the middle west and that they did not realize the necessity for great quantities of water.

Board Has Open Mind

The project of construction of the dam and aqueduct was characterized by John Bullock, chairman of the meeting, in his opening remarks as the biggest job, outside of the Panama canal, ever undertaken in the United States. He asserted that the government had more than carried out its part and the building project was ahead of schedule. "Secretary Wilbur has a right to look to this district to take some action now," he said. Bullock also stressed heavily the fact that the board of directors of the district had an open mind and invited constructive criticism and declared it was attempting to do the best possible job for the people of Southern California. "The welfare of our children and their children and the property values of the future depend on getting support for this aqueduct," he prophesied.

Included in the delegation from Orange county were the following persons: Mayor John Knox, Councilmen E. G. Warner, J. L. McClimen and A. C. Hasenjaeger; City Attorney Clyde Downing; Assistant Engineer DeWitt Dudley; Col. S. H. Finley, member of the board of directors of the district; Mrs. Clara Cushman, of the city and county planning commissions; J. Frank Burke and Paul Neff, of the Register; George Wells, president of the board of education; F. E. McCarter, president of the Realty board; A. J. Cruickshank, president of the First National bank; J. P. Baumgartner, president of the Commercial National bank; Nat Neff, county highway superintendent and engineer for the county planning commission; George Raymer, secretary of the chamber of commerce, and Mrs. Raymer; Carl Mock and Mrs. Mock; O. H. Barr, W. C. Jerome and A. J. McCadden, all of Santa Ana.

Dr. W. L. Bigham, chairman of the county planning commission; O. E. Steward, member of the board of directors of the district; D. D. Waynick, Charles H. Mann, Dr. J. W. Harpster, William T. Wallop, Leo J. Sheridan, E. P. Haggood, R. Nyboe, V. W. Hannum, City Manager John W. Price, A. W. Sherman and Russell McComb, of the Bulletin; all of Anaheim.

Walter Humphreys, member of the board of directors of the district; Councilman W. B. Potter, Postmaster John B. Homer, and Perry Maynard, of the Tribune, all of Fullerton.

The dinner meeting last night was called to order by Franklin Thomas, vice president of the board of directors, and representative from Pasadena. Invocation was offered by the Rev. G. A. Briegleb, pastor of St. Paul's Presbyterian church of Los Angeles.

PROGRAM FOR WOMAN'S CLUB IS OUTLINED

BUENA PARK, June 5.—The Buena Park Woman's club held the final business meeting of the club year Thursday, with a potluck luncheon served at 12:30 o'clock followed by a review of the last chapters of "Camino Viejo," the book on the history of Orange county, by Terry Stephenson, was given by Mrs. R. N. Cummins, who has had charge of the study circle for the year.

Past President's day, June 18, will be the last meeting of the year. A luncheon will be served at 12:30 o'clock in the social hall of the Congregational church by members of the Ladies Aid society. Past presidents of the club will be guests of honor and will present the program which will include a play, "A Day in the President's Life." Reservations for the luncheon can be made with Mrs. Fred Law, president of the Ladies Aid society, and are requested to be in by June 11.

Announcement was made of a card party which will be given in the clubhouse June 18.—This will be one of a series of parties, proceeds to be used in the building fund for a new clubhouse. Bridge and five hundred will be played, and there will be refreshment and special prizes including a door prize. The committee in charge of arrangements is Mrs. Arvil Houston, Mrs. J. F. Greenawald, Mrs. L. T. Wilsey and Mrs. H. A. Albright.

Notice was posted at the meeting of an election of two trustees at the June 18 meeting. The articles of incorporation call for seven trustees, and as the by-laws only required five, two more must be elected before the building program is started. The present trustees are Mrs. H. E. Warren, Mrs. L. T. Wilsey, Mrs. George Trapp, Mrs. L. A. Fry and the president, Mrs. Parrie Salter. Mrs. Caryl B. Snyder will automatically take the place of Mrs. Salter on the board when she is installed as new president. Installation of officers by Mrs. Salter will feature the Past President's day program, June 18.

MADE TROJAN KNIGHT

ANAHEIM, June 5.—Joe Bushard, son of Mr. and Mrs. L. W. Bushard, of 215 South Kroeger street, has been elected to membership in the Trojan Knights, an organization that governs student body affairs at the University of California. There is an organization called the Trojan Knights, composed of freshmen at the college, and of the 32 members each year, six are elected to the Trojan Knights. Joe is a sophomore at the school. He graduated from Abraham Union High school in 1929.

Girls To Direct Annual Of School

NEWPORT HEIGHTS, June 5.—Next year the annual book of the Newport Harbor Union High school will be edited and managed by girls, Mary Jane Sturgeon having been appointed editor-in-chief and Margaret Hoefner, business manager. Helen Jane Fuller will serve as assistant editor and Jerry Briggs as assistant business manager. The editor and manager will select their staff at the beginning of the new semester September next. The school had no annual this year.

Thoughts On Modern Life

By GLENN FRANK

PORTRAIT OF A WRITER

There is an incredible amount of bad writing being perpetrated in the world just now.

And alongside the incredible amount of bad writing there is an incredible amount of good thinking being done.

During the next few years we shall need to release from its prison of the inarticulate every fleeting bit of fine thinking that may be done anywhere.

To all colleges and universities and journalistic offices in the world I raise the cry that they deliberately seek to discover, recruit and develop good writers to interpret the intelligent leadership that is today more or less futile because it is inarticulate.

Here are some things that Van Meter Ames, in his vivid and provocative volume called Introduction to Beauty, thinks mark the great writer:

He must be original without being obscure.

He must be plain without being dull.

He must have fresh insight without cutting his insight off from contact with the commonplace.

He must combine uniqueness of aspiration with universality of appeal. He must neither mystify his readers by exclusive concern with what they have never heard of nor bore his readers by exclusive concern with what they know completely before he writes.

He must say what they can see but have not seen and might never see unless he reveals it. He must make men cry aloud. "This is what I have long suspected but could never put into words."

In other words, he must reveal men to themselves.

This is stirring under the surface of American life, among the leaders and among the led, much profound questioning just now, much sincere thinking, but the force of this brooding is not coming full against American life.

We have an over-supply of simple Polyannas.

We have an over-supply of smart-aleck critics.

We are in dire need of great writers who will keep the bandwagon of criticism close enough to the crowd so the crowd can march to the music of straight thinking.

THE NEW RELIEF LAW

The California Legislature enacted a law last winter forbidding the use of taxpayers' money permanently for the relief of the poor in California, unless those in need have lived in the state at least three years, and one year in the county in which the aid is rendered.

A very few states have a similar law, but these are states to which there is almost no migration. The other states provide in the main that before an indigent person can claim the aid from the taxpayer for relief, he must have lived for one year in the state, and a brief period in the county. This was the law in California before the action of the recent legislature.

The problem which society confronts in the needy individuals and families has always been a serious one, and owing to the conditions in the world and country, it is a major problem now, and is likely to become an increasingly serious matter for people to decide.

The question really is whether society will meet the obligations of human want and distress in an organized manner, so that the obligation rests upon society as it is regularly and officially organized, or whether the appeal must be made to private individuals and groups of individuals, and the matter taken care of with such spasmodic effort and caprice that voluntary obligation will conduct.

We are intensely desirous of keeping down taxes, and we believe there are many ways of reducing the budget and the expense of our political units.

But we believe this is a step backward, and is placing upon the sensitive, the liberal and the particularly kindhearted, the heavy obligations which society in an organized manner is morally obligated and should be legally obligated to meet. Such legislation would seem to us ill-considered. It takes from the public official the power to exercise judgment and discrimination in the use of public funds in the relief of the indigent poor, when his necessities and appeal may have every ground of justice and humanity in them.

Every service that the state furnishes today was originally a private service. Roads built by the state were formerly private enterprises, and toll gates were met constantly along the highway.

The blind, the orphaned, the insane and all other socially unfortunate groups formerly were supported by private enterprises and philanthropic agencies, until society, the taxpayer, saw that in the development of civilization it was an obligation which should be met by all men and not alone by the few.

Our institutions have been the outgrowth of the Christian doctrines of brotherhood, of love and our common Fatherhood. It would be as logical to take this attitude in regard to other unfortunates in our state, as to take it in regard to those who maybe have already lived 18 months or two years in the state. It is retracing the steps of civilization.

It is going back to the day of the survival of the strong by his personal prowess. It is showing the oak back into the acorn.

To be sure, the social agencies call our attention in all good faith and sincerity to the fact that this entails greater obligations upon those agencies than heretofore. But the citizens of California, who believe that society as a whole should fulfill its obligations where obligations exist, and not entirely depend upon the few to whom all appeals are made, and who are carrying the main burden of such obligations, should arouse themselves and demand that our laws should square with our intelligence and with the needs of the state.

Already a legislative committee, representing the Community Chests of the state have in mind the correction of this mistake, and the calling of the attention of our legislators to the hardships which this law will entail upon thousands of innocent people as victims, and the obligations which it will enlarge upon those who are already carrying more than their share of the burden.

It is a serious question as to whether, in any case, a state can deny to one class of its citizens privileges which the other class enjoys. In other words, when a man has been here long enough to become a citizen, is he not entitled to all the rights and privileges of a citizen? Private institutions like our churches, Boy Scouts, Y. M. C. A. and Y. W. C. A., clubs, missionary effort and similar activities are naturally, properly and necessarily supported by private benevolence.

But this condition, which is entirely the result of a social system and circumstances over which the victims have no control, is a condition which the state should provide for meeting, not by the degree of appeal it may make at any particular moment to the tender-hearted, but as a legal right which can be demanded and is assured.

Simultaneously with the news that a big gambling casino is to be established on a little piece of private property near enough to the new Boulder city to take the earnings of the workers there, comes the news from Reno that gamblers fight a duel in a Reno gambling club and one of them is killed.

Nevada has passed a law legalizing gambling. The same legislature provided for a serve-self divorce program to increase their revenue. The government of the United States is putting $165,000,000 in the lower Colorado dam and power plant. Much of this will go into labor. A city is being established.

The Federal government is interested in the character of the men and the character of the city that is to be established there. They are trying to protect the men who will be there, and to whom this vast amount of money will be paid, from the exploitation of the very class of people whom the Nevada laws are inviting and with whom she is making a division of the swag that will be taken "legally" from these victims.

Undoubtedly the expenditure of this vast amount of money in Nevada by the government was a strong inducement to the legislature to pass a bill to permit this sand-bagging of the workmen by the gambling group. Nevada is hard up. It is hard up for money. We should judge it is harder up for character than it is for money. Benjamin Franklin said that it was hard for an empty bag to stand straight. Nevada hasn't any intention of standing straight. In the regularly legitimate channels of trade, she can greatly profit by what is taking place in the lower Colorado. But she is not satisfied by the returns through ordinary business, but she must go through that process of getting the money from people without giving them anything in return.

Which condition is the basic principle of crime? There is additional legislation of a general character needed in the country, besides that of a uniform divorce law.

Those girls at a western university who reported for the men's track team should know, of course, that not all the dashing young men at school are on the cinder path.

A LESSON FROM THE RAILROADS

For many years before prohibition went into effect, the railroads of this country had forbidden the employment of trainmen who were known to take a drink of intoxicating liquor. They found that the safety of their passengers required it. They found also that the expenses for damages of all kinds grew less.

Wrecks were more infrequent; passengers were protected, and human life was saved. The people learned of it, of course, and trusted themselves as passengers. The railroads have been constantly careful along this line.

It appears that this care has not reached in full measure to our steamship lines. The recent wreck of the Harvard is an illustration. From the reports received, the reason that this boat was far from its course, and wrecked, was because it was violating in spirit, if not in letter, the Constitution and laws of the United States. It failed to exercise ordinary care, the care that was exercised by railroads long before the adoption of prohibition.

It is fortunate that the crew and passengers were all saved, but this was due primarily to the freedom from storm, the calmness of the sea, and the nearness of rescuing boats, certainly not to any care which should have been afforded the passengers by those in charge of them.

Enrolling For the Vacation

Christian Science Monitor

Cartoonists may as well begin to revise their ideas of the typical schoolboy. Each year they depict him rushing gleefully from his last class to a swimming hole or a sand-lot baseball game. In their sketches he runs from school so fast that the full book-strap flies like a ribbon behind him. Such a portrayal leaves out of the picture an increasingly large number of boys and girls, now teachers, who prefer to spend the summer in school.

Most of the summer "vacation" will be passed in classrooms and on the school playgrounds by approximately 350,000 elementary and high school pupils in the United States this year, Walter J. Greenleaf, a federal specialist in higher education, has estimated. This number will be exceeded by the enrollment in 640 colleges and universities, if one may judge by the 425,000 students who attended such courses last summer.

"This summer," Mr. Greenleaf said, "fifty-three sessions will open in Texas, forty-five in Pennsylvania, thirty-three in Illinois, thirty in Ohio, twenty-six in California, twenty-five in New York, twenty-two in Kansas, twenty-one in Missouri, and thirty-one in New England, not to mention those in the other states.... The summer school idea has spread in Europe, Central America, the Orient. In Europe, 118 institutions, located in fourteen countries, offer summer courses, some of which are organized expressly for Americans."

Since summer schools were first tried out in the United States fifty years ago, they have developed into an indispensable part of the educational system. Students deficient in one or more subjects may, by attendance in summer, continue with the regular classes. Others enroll in courses for which they had no time during the main session. The collegiate classes are filled chiefly with teachers who equip themselves to do better teaching.

Still other adults manage in this way to prolong their formal studies after graduation. The latter group, particularly, should be enlarged. Possibly more of these mature students could be encouraged to attend summer school if the colleges and universities in the United States would emphasize "credits" less and proficiency more, as they do in Europe.

More Truth Than Poetry

MILD DISCIPLINE

When first I gleaned, at Sunday School,
My early education,
I felt that Adam was a fool
For risking deportation.
With ripe fruits hanging all about
And in the tree tops hidden
He might have got along without
The one that was forbidden.

But now that I am wiser grown,
I humbly beg his pardon;
For many weary years I've known
How hard it is to garden—
How one must ply the laboring spade,
And strain his muscles hoeing,
To check the outworm's daily raid
And keep things green and growing.

When he had spent long arduous days
In shooting birds from cherries,
In coating plants and vines with sprays
And picking bugs off berries,
And pouring arsenate of lead
On every bed and bower,
He must have rather often said:
"This garden work is sour."

And when at last he had to leave
For elsewhere in Creation,
I'm rather sure he did not grieve
Or voice a lamentation.
One who has tilled a garden plot
Can live content outside it
And never pine about his lot;
I know, because I've tried it.

Mainly a Matter of Money

By WILLIAM TRUFANT FOSTER and WADDILL CATCHINGS

Yesterday we said that you cannot have a business depression and an adequate flow of money to consumers, any more than you can have a drought accompanied by heavy rains.

Is it true, then, that a shortage of consumer income is the only trouble business ever has?

By no means. Even if total consumer-demand were adequate, business would still be bothered with unpredictable changes in demand. A mild and sunny fall might reduce the sales of ulsters, but sales of motor-cars, millinery, or something else would be proportionately increased.

Danger there would still be, as in a communistic society, or in any other society, of producing relatively too much of certain things—phonographs and tires and Mah Jongg sets, for example; but this danger could not hold back industry as a whole, for there would be no danger whatever of producing too much of things as a whole.

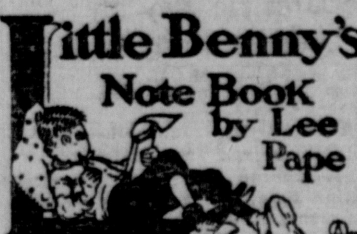

If total consumer income were large enough, trade could not contract in some places without expanding in others. No longer would there be a vicious spiral of deflation whereby troubles would be passed along from industry to industry in a cumulative process. For business as a whole, overproduction would be impossible.

This is the gist of the matter: there is no possibility of giving men steady work and rapidly increasing standards of living, unless consumers somehow obtain enough money to buy all the finished goods about as rapidly as they are ready for sale.

The chief trouble is that consumers do not now obtain the necessary money, except for short periods of time.

Business depressions are essentially problems of consumer income. The business cycle is mainly a monetary phenomenon.

Me and pop was taking a wawk before supper, and pop sed, By gollies.

Whats a matter, pop? I sed and he sed, You must always remember one thing as you go your way through life, its never to late to do the rite thing. You may make mistakes, in fact youre bound to make mistakes if youre human, he sed.

Well I gess Im human, I sed, and pop sed, I wouldnt have you otherwise, my boy. So hold your hed up and always remember the old proverb, its never too late to mend. We are all erring mortals in a greater or less degree, blindly groping for the rite path in this great jungle called life, sometimes stumbling and regaining our balence in time, sometimes falling on our nose and having to be helped to our straying feet by other bewildered wayfarers, but through it all if you do your duty as you see it and when you see it, no more can be justly be expected of you. Better late than never, its an old saying, but how true. Ah, here's a mailbox now, he sed.

And he took a letter out of his inside pocket and smoothed some of the wrinkles out, saying, Your mother gave it to me to mail 2 days ago, but, poor human that I am, it never occurred to me till this moment, but am I dismayed, am I discouraged? No, I am facing the world with a firm front and making the only amends that lie in my power by resolutely mailing it now, he sed.

Wich he did. Proving he had been tawking personal all the time.

Dr. J. M. Burlew and Dr. Frank E. Winter have received notice to be prepared for active duty at training camp at Fort Riley, Kas., June 16.

Bringing the word that her son, Glenn L. Martin, is head over heels in business having to do with meeting government orders for aircraft supplies, Mrs. C. Y. Martin returned last night from a seven months visit with her son in New York.

W. J. Ferrabee has taken possession of the Hotel Rochester in Orange and the place is now open for business.

With 132 pages of carefully edited and attractively illustrated copy, the 1917 edition of the Santa Ana Polytechnic high school's annual, The Ariel, is off the press today.

Announcement was made today by W. H. Spurgeon that the Company L. benefit baseball game between teams composed of Santa Ana high school faculty and Merchants and Manufacturers' association members would be played June 13.

Whether the Pacific Electric will extend its line from Santa Ana to the new $10,000 packing house being built on Lyon street by E. D. Burge, will probably be known definitely tomorrow.

GERMAN AIR RAID

On June 5, 1917, the third of a series of air raids took place when 16 German airplanes came over the North Sea and dropped many bombs on the small towns and villages in Essex and Kent. Only 14 of the raiders returned to their home base, for two were brought down by British guns. The British casualties were low, only two being killed and 29 injured.

The raiders met with a lively reception, extra precautions having been taken by British authorities after the previous raid. The Germans were attacked by British aviators before they had an opportunity to carry out their raiding intentions to any great extent, and the British anti-aircraft guns were very effective.

The official statement said that the raiders also attacked the naval establishments in the Medway. A considerable number of bombs were dropped and a certain amount of damage was done to house property, but the damage done to naval and military establishments was practically negligible.
